

Senior center critics get run-around

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

A group of concerned Romulus residents, Citizens Against Exploitation, in the last few weeks has been questioning the proposed senior citizens high-rise complex on the present site of the old Romulus Elementary School at Bibbins and Shook streets.

In the course of attending several council meetings and public hearings on the high-rise, CAE finally got the city council to agree to give them a special session at least two weeks in advance of a rezoning hearing on the project.

When CAE learned that the City Planning Commission Oct. 16 had set Nov. 13 as the date for the rezoning hearing, its members were irate because they felt council and Mayor William M. Oakley had gone back on their promise.

To its credit, council last week postponed the rezoning hearing until Nov. 27. Not to its credit, council set Oct. 30 (day before yesterday) for the special session for CAE, but only after its spokesman, Mrs. Diana M. Burek, raised the roof.

Again, CAE was displeased and we believe rightly so. With the special session set for Monday, and the local newspaper, the Roman, coming out the following Wednesday, it would prove to be impossible to publicize the meeting.

Since the special meeting was requested so local residents could get more answers to questions and to provide valuable input prior to the rezoning hearing, CAE was outraged at such lack of consideration.

The four-week interval between the special session for CAE and the rezoning hearing is quite sufficient, but we at ANP agree that for council to notify the group of a special meeting date so soon that it made publicity impossible is inconsiderate of that governmental body.

Further, we believe that council and Mayor Oakley hedged on their promise and only consented to a special meeting for CAE when they were practically beaten over the head.

This newspaper is not taking a stand for or against the proposed senior citizens high-rise complex in the Romulus community at this time. But, we do feel that local residents have every right to learn as much about the project as possible and that their elected governmental officials should supply that information willingly.

Council and mayor could still rectify the whole situation by giving CAE another special session on a date that would give the group sufficient time to publicize the matter.

CAE is on record as not being against the proposed high-rise per se, but wants to know how the project will affect them and the community in which they live.

We believe that CAE has that right and we support them in that contention wholeheartedly.

Judge Stone of Romulus honored for pre-trial work

Judge James B. Stone of Romulus' 34th District Court is one of four judges from west area district courts who received congratulations this month for the completion of a pre-trial services program.

The 34th District Court serves residents of Romulus and Belleville and the townships of Huron, Van Buren and Sumpter.

Judge Stone, along with Judge Thomas G. Smith (18th District, Westland), Judge James E. Mies (16th District, Livonia) and Judge John M. Dillon (17th District, Redford), was cited for completion of the second year of operation of the outstandingly successful Out-County Pre-Trial Services program of the Wayne County Circuit Court.

The four judges have participated in the program since its inception in October of 1976, serving as Acting Circuit Court Judges on a rotating basis on Mondays and Fridays in Building "A" of the Wayne County General Hospital in Eloise.

They were selected to handle criminal pre-trial work at the felony level at the "suburban circuit courtroom," as a method of keeping police available in their neighborhood rather than being tied up in backlogged Detroit courts. The program, with a similar satellite court Downriver, marked the first time in the history of the Circuit Court that services were brought directly into local communities. It has saved considerable expense and time for police officers, victims, witnesses, defendants and their families and lawyers, who formerly had to travel to Detroit for necessary court appearances.

Lt. Bobbie Killebrew, president of the Wayne County Detectives Association, has reported that "You won't find any cop in Wayne County who doesn't like the program. Before this, we had the long trek fighting traffic to get into Detroit. Then the expense and time involved with finding a parking place close to the City-County Building, just across from the RenCen area.

Then more waiting for overcrowded elevators before we even get to a courtroom. When we can avoid going downtown, the men can whip in and out of the satellite court and be back on the beat the same morning. The time saved is unbelievable, especially in bad weather when the officers used to get delayed for hours and have to cope with hazardous driving conditions."

The second satellite court operates on Wednesdays at the 33rd District Court in Woodhaven, with Judge Gerald A. McNally servicing the Downriver area.

David E. Kasunic, director of the Out-County program, stated that the benefits extend to the Circuit Court operation in Detroit, as well as to the suburban residents and police officers. "By utilizing activity relating to their own or nearby community, we make it possible for Circuit Court judges to concentrate on the backlog of trial cases and to ease the congestion problems in the downtown circuit courts."

During the past year the National Association of Counties (NACo) presented a national achievement award to the Wayne County Circuit Court for the accomplishments of the Out-County program and cited the participating judges for their outstanding contributions.

Huron school board does an about face

The Huron school board changed its mind last week and approved taking $12,843 from its building and site fund that would pave the way for receiving $71,788 more in state funds, with the total going to buy a data processing system.

In previous action the week before, the board had turned down drawing $25,000 from the building and site fund that would have allowed them $87,000 in additional state funds to buy a $112,000 data processing system.

Leo Kyko, board president, said the manufacturer of the data processing equipment, had taken off a few of the frills and lowered his price from $112,000 down to $84,631.

Under the new quoted price, the board had only to withdraw $12,843 from the building and site fund and add that amount to $29,472 it would receive in added cost vocational funds from the state to make a total of $42,315, Kyko said.

He explained that the state would then match that total to give the Huron school district a total of $84,631 for the data processing equipment.

The new system, when installed, will allow Huron and six surrounding school districts to make use of its facilities in a variety of ways, he said. The state will reimburse Huron for work on outside districts on a per-student basis, he added.

Classmates with a heart

When two pupils at Gordonier Elementary School in Romulus were injured seriously in an automobile accident on Labor Day weekend, their classmates held a cupcake sale whose proceeds will go toward paying medical bills for their friends. Sale held recently at the school had the

Senior center critics irate with city heads

Citizens Against Exploitation, a group of concerned Romulus residents questioning the proposed senior citizens high-rise building slated for construction at Bibbins and Shook streets, has sent a letter to the Roman criticizing city officials.

The letter explains how the group feels about a promised special meeting with its members by city council that almost didn't come off and its objections to how the project is being handled.

The entire text of the CAE letter follows:

Clerk requests voters to study 11 ballot issues

Romulus Clerk Leonard J. Folmar is urging city voters to familiarize themselves with 11 state-wide proposals which will appear on the ballot at the general election next Tuesday so as to speed up the election process.

"The election ballot will contain critical issues that will have a tremendous effect on the everyday lives of the citizens of Romulus," Folmar explained.

To that end, he urged that every Romulus resident who is registered to vote to exercise that privilege.

So that voters may have advance knowledge of what is contained in the 11 state-wide proposals, Folmar issued a list to the Roman.

"If voters would clip information on the proposals out of the newspaper and sit down and learn them, then they could have their minds made up beforehand on how they were going to vote. This would allow voters to come early and leave early and speed up voting on election day," he said.

Information on the proposals follows:

"A letter signed by the council and mayor recently was received by the CAE. This letter supposedly answered our questions regarding the high rise proposal. Most of the answers are inadequate and represent a lack of knowledge and commitment on the part of city officials."

"Upon the request of councilmembers Block and Cantrell, the rezoning hearing scheduled for November 13, 1978 was postponed until November 27, 1978. Maybe even they have begun to wonder just what the big deal about the high rise is."

"The formal hearing, if council and mayor remember it is to be that and not merely an information meeting where questions don't have to be answered, was set for Monday, October 30th. Of course, that makes it impossible to notify the taxpayers via the newspaper, and makes it difficult to spread the word to all concerned."

"Why a formal hearing at least two weeks before a rezoning hearing? Many of us who have attended rezoning hearings find that property owners objecting to a zoning change usually find themselves unprepared and not informed and the zoning change is easily passed over objections of land owners. We feel a lot of people will be directly and indirectly affected by the rezoning and want them to be informed before that final hearing, after which the taxpayer has nothing to say."

"We are not against senior low cost housing in Romulus. But at the same time we don't want a developer and a group of backers to get rich while we dig deeper in our pockets to pay more taxes and other costs. If the high rise will cost the taxpayers we want to know it. We want honest, complete, clear answers. For example, why must the high rise contain 225 units? Why not 150 units? This would be more reasonable and would more than meet the city's needs for senior housing and would prevent overcrowding of the downtown area. We are reasonable people and only ask for all the facts and a say in changes within our community."

Students help fellow classmates through peer tutoring

By KAY DeBORD

In the musical "The King and I," there's a song that contains the line "If you become a teacher, by your pupils you'll be taught..." and Wayne Memorial High School students in the tutoring program have found this to be a truth.

The tutoring program was started at Wayne Memorial High School in the spring of 1977 and has steadily grown. At the present time there are 32 students involved in the program, a general credit class offered to WMHS students. It was developed by Barbara Kordel and JoAnn Abate, teachers at the high school.

Academic excellence and intellect are not the only criteria used by teachers and counselors in recommending students for the program. More importantly, they are chosen for their interest in and how they relate to others.

Recognizing that everyone has some area in which they excel, those who themselves have been tutored are encouraged to return to tutor others in need of help.

In addition to peer tutoring (working with others in the same age group) at Wayne Memorial, the tutors go to other schools. They work with students at Adams Junior High, Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln Elementary schools, where they are welcomed by the students and the teachers.

For a student having problems with a subject, 20 minutes of work on a one-to-one basis is worth more than two hours in a classroom situation, according to Mrs. Kordel, who is responsible for coordinating the tutoring program and putting it into practical operation.

The single young tutor working with an individual student fills a need that many times is more than academic, according to Mrs. Kordel. A special relationship often is formed between the two as they study and work together. This is a situation that could be lost in the crowded classroom where the student with a problem is one of many needing the attention of the teacher.

The tutors also have the experience of working with a small group of students with learning problems in a corner of the classroom or in the reading or learning center of the school while the teacher works with the rest of the class.

Another approach used is for the tutor to move around in the classroom helping those who ask for it, sometimes helping the teacher in programs for the whole class. Tutors also can assist in preparing instructional materials for the class. At Wayne Memorial, the tutor often sits in on a lecture-type class with the student and takes notes for later study.

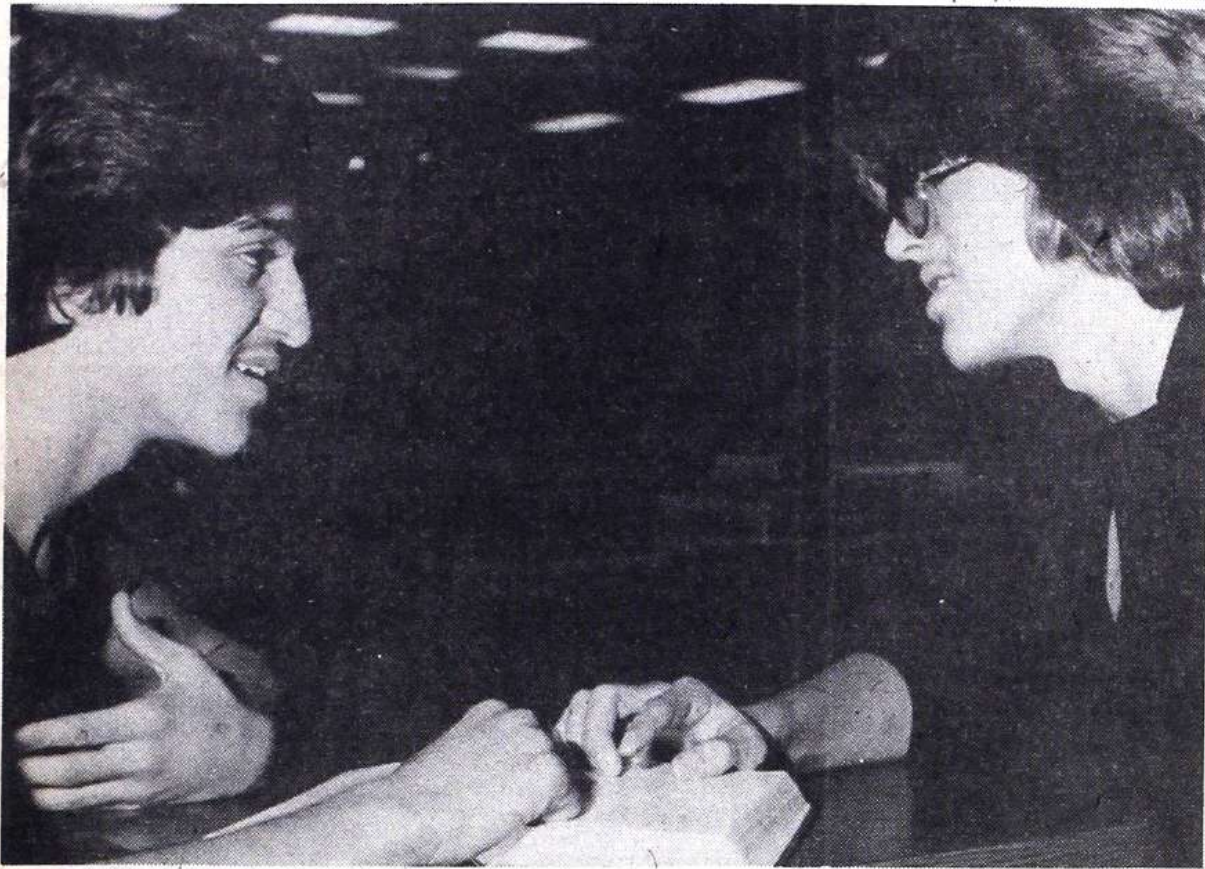

The tutors get intensive training over a six-week period and have their own training manual, prepared by the peer tutoring coordinators at the school. The training includes presentations by school staff members in all areas including learning disabilities, emotionally impaired, hearing impaired, reading consultants, school counselors, school social workers and media specialists.

The training sessions stress the ideas of self-concept, self-worth, values, empathy, interpersonal relationships and communication skills that will help the student tutor to give the greatest help to the students with whom they work.

The student tutors also work with fellow students from other countries as they struggle to learn the English language with its many contradictions. In turn, the tutors gain understanding of other countries, their customs and language.

The Bible has the answer

The following question-and-answer column is supplied by The Rev. Ronald Elie, pastor of Zion Missionary Church of Belleville. Those readers with questions for the pastor can contact him at Zion Missionary Church, 89 Edgement, Belleville, 48111.

Dear Pastor Elie,

I have some real mother-in-law problems. Does the Bible have anything to say about meddlesome mother-in-laws, or is there some rule relating to it? Do you think if we were to move out of living with my mother-in-law that it would help?

Mother-In-Law Problems Peggy, Romulus

Dear Peggy,

The Bible has the answer. In I Thessalonians 4:11 — it says: "And that you study to be quiet, and to do your own business." In today's English we would hear: "Be quiet and mind your own business." We need to be more polite then saying it quite this way, but the meaning is the same.

If fact, Peggy, this rule applies to all in-laws. Many a marriage that might have been a little heaven on earth has been changed to be more like hell on earth by in-laws. The duty of all in-laws is to leave the newly established home strictly alone.

Peggy, if at all possible you should make arrangements as tactfully as possible to move. It would solve a lot of problems. You are doing it on scriptural grounds (The Scripture backs you up). Read Genesis 2:24: "Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh." Peggy, try it and see if it does not help.

WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL COPENHAGEN

As Lawrence Welk would put it: Copenhagen is "wonderful, wonderful." This city is a concentration of all the best in Denmark.

Here is the store of the world stores (Ilmus Bolighus) specializing in home-furnishings and accessories; here is the biggest entertainment attraction in all Europe (Tivoli Gardens right in the middle of the city) where adults become children again with the greatest delight.

You'll find Copenhagen one great smorgasbord of wonders and your only problem making choices of fantastic things to do. There is an old world feeling of great courtesy that makes an indelible impression, and nowhere will Americans find another people with so much in common. The Danish humor and their appreciation of quality is a continuous satisfaction.

Don't be afraid to ship glassware and china. It will arrive safely from Denmark. Don't miss the Shuman Circus. Only the Moscow circus surpasses it. And do eat some smoked eel. It's the greatest.

10 Seeking election in Huron Township

Ten candidates including three incumbents will be seeking elected office in next Tuesday's general election in Huron Township.

The township's top post of supervisor will be contested by Democrat George W. Moore, former supervisor, and Republican Roy Raker.

The present supervisor, Democrat John Puskar, will not seek reelection, but is running for a seat on the board of trustees.

For the office of township clerk, Democrat Mary Lou Carey, former clerk, will be opposed by Republican

Incumbent Treasurer Richard F. Sullivan, Democrat is unopposed.

The two trustee seats open on the Huron Township Board are being sought by Democrat Puskar, Democrat Fred Ashby, and Republican Romayne Stoker.

In the race for constable, incumbent Democrat's William Manny and DeVere Willard will run unopposed.

Hardesty arraigned on 5 murder counts

Billy Hardesty, 21, of Van Buren Township, accused of slaying five persons, including his parents, Monday noon was released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti and lodged in the Washtenaw County Jail.

Last Wednesday, the accused murderer was arraigned on five murder counts and two for attempted murder in his hospital room by 14th District Court Judge Kenneth Bronson and then waived his rights to preliminary examination in the same court.

Hardesty will appear for arraignment Nov. 2 (tomorrow) in Washtenaw Circuit Court before Judge William Ager. His attorneys have indicated they will file a motion at that time to have him examined by psychiatrists to see if he is competent to stand trial.

At his arraignment tomorrow, Hardesty can plead guilty or not guilty. Under other criminal charges, he could be eligible for bond, but under the circumstances of the crimes of which he is accused, that is unlikely.

The suspect was wounded in a shootout with police Oct. 19 at the home of his parents on Martz Road in Van Buren Township. Police now theorize he killed his parents, Ronald and Jeannette Hardesty on the night of Oct. 18, then went out and killed three other persons and wounded two more.

Killed in a Ypsilanti bar parking lot were Timothy Scholfield, 22, of Belleville, and Troy Lee Curry, 25, of Canton Township.

Shot fatally at a tool and die shop in Ypsilanti Township was Daniel E. Wood, 38, the suspect's brother-in-law of Canton Township. Wounded at the firm were Bobby J. Baker, 23, of Westland, and Tommy Lee Brown, 29, of Tecumseh.

Schools name business head

Bates H. Landis, assistant superintendent of business affairs for the Taylor Public Schools for the last three years, has been hired as business manager for the Romulus Community Schools.

Supt. James Garfield said Landis began his new job assignment last week (Monday) with offices in the administration building.

Prior to working for the Taylor schools, Landis was employed as an assistant superintendent by the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

The new business manager is married and the father of two children, Victoria, 26, an architect, and James, 15, a high school student.

Landis has been involved in the field of education since 1951. He received his bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University, his master's degree from the University of Michigan, and his education specialist degree from Eastern Michigan University.

"I'm happy to be here", he said. "I hope it lasts. I'm most impressed with the school board and the superintendent."

Benefit set for Nov. 9

Plans are shaping up for the benefit fashion show Nov. 9 at Romulus High School with proceeds slated for the Elaine Rishel medical fund trust.

Mrs. Sandra Langley, chairman of the local fund-raising event, said officials and staff members of the Romulus Community Schools and city government will serve as models.

Also modeling will be 11-year-old Elaine and her twin sister, Lorraine.

The fund was set up to help pay medical expenses incurred when Elaine underwent a kidney transplant last July.

Mrs. Langley said "nice door prizes and refreshments" will be served during the fashion show in the school auditorium.

Tickets for the affair are $3 for adults and $1.50 for children 12 years of age and under, she said.

3 Tax reform advocates explain ballot proposals

By MAUREEN CAMPS
ANP Staff Writer

Citizens from all over Western Wayne County, numbering about 200 gathered recently in Westland's new recreation center to hear Robert Tisch, Richard Headlee and Robert Lytle explain the ballot proposals that are part of "Tax Revolt '78."

Each man was true to form, repeating the arguments and slogans, quotes and even quips that each has said dozens of times before dozens of similar groups.

And although each had told the same story dozens, hundreds of times, they were obviously just as excited about their respective proposals as ever before.

Richard Headlee, proponent and spokesman for Proposal E., nicknamed the Headlee Amendment, was smooth, polished in his dark three-piece suit and silver-gray hair, and a practiced public speaker. His talk was liberally sprinkled local communities without funding them.

His plan, he said, is a tax cut, cutting assessed valuation of homes in half, and limiting future increases in assessment to 2.5 per year. Like Headlee's plan, it would prohibit the state from mandating programs to local communities without funding them.

His plan does allow for an increase of 1 percent, to 5.6 percent, in the state income tax, but leaving the limit there. It also allows school districts to levy a 1 percent income tax with voter approval, to pay for school costs when the property tax financing is cut.

Because of those income tax provisions, opponents claim his plan is a tax shift, not cut.

Replying to this contention, Tisch used his by now well-known retort: "There sure as hell is going to be a shift. We're going to shift those shiftless people in office into high gear and they're going to become responsible."

He charged the audience to "forget the fear tactics" being used on them. Tisch employed his explosive attention getting device of yelling only once during the course of the evening, in response to a rebuttal to his plan offered by Westland Councilman Charles Griffin.

Using his favorite terms, he called Griffin a "damned liar, not qualified to sit on the City Council."

Robert Lytle, a Birmingham resident and father of 10 children who, he said, all attended public schools, authored the voucher plan amendment. The amendment would prohibit the use of property taxes for school operation, which would, he said, cut them by 65 percent. It would require that the legislature establish "a program of general taxation for support of schools."

Although it is not written in the amendment, he said he "recommends" that taxation to support schools would come in the form of a 2.3 percent increase in income tax, and from various other state taxes such as the Single Business Tax.

Although the amendment, if passed, gives to the Legislature the job of coming up with the voucher plan, he has written a 64-page booklet on how he suggests, and expects, the details to be worked out.

Basically, the plan is that each student would be issued a voucher representing a certain amount of money. That amount would vary from county to county, depending on such variables as the rate of teacher salaries in that area.

The student could take his voucher to any school within a reasonable area and attend that school. The school's operation budget would come from the vouchers. Transportation would be the responsibility of the intermediate school district.

Answering a claim that the plan is parochial in disguise, he said: "We want to aid the 90 percent of kids who go to parochial schools is really incidental." He maintains that the amendment is perfectly constitutional as regards the separation of church and state. Lytle states he is opposed to parochial.

Health tests are available for women

The new Women's and Teen's Health Clinic in Westland will sponsor an open house from 12 noon until 6 p.m. Nov. 3.

The public is invited to attend and get information on the health center that has been in operation for about a month. The clinic is located at 32633 Cherry Hill, just east of Venoy.

The clinic provides health testing such as pap tests, breast examination, venereal disease testing, and dispenses birth control information and contraceptives. Teens and women may use the services, and no parental permission is required for any age client. All information is confidential.

The center holds regular clinic hours weekly. It is financed with state family planning funds, through Communities United For Action (CUFA).

The open house will provide a chance for residents to meet the staff and become acquainted with the services.

Clients come from throughout the Western Wayne County area.

Hardesty's mother was found dead in a bedroom and his father's body was discovered stuffed into a freezer with foodstuffs piled on top of the corpse.

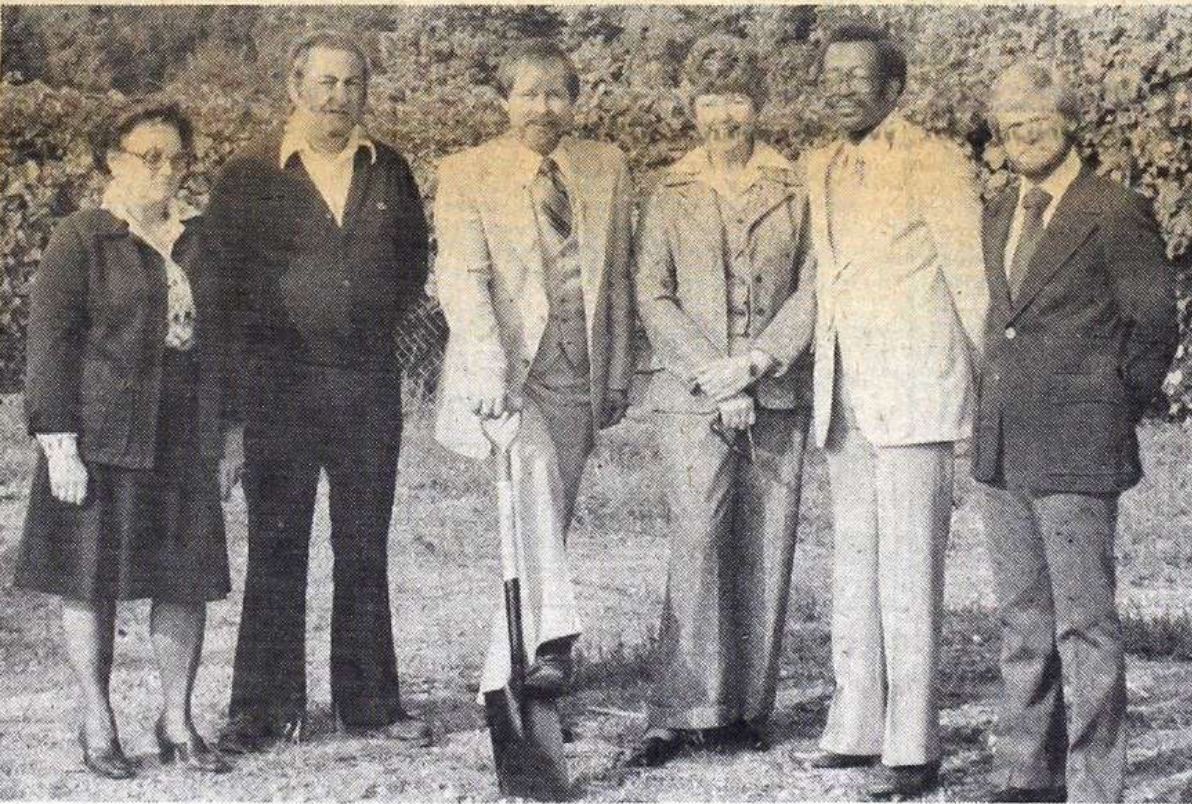

The people had come to listen, to ask questions, to make up their minds about the three crucial "tax revolt" questions that will be on the Nov. 7 ballot.

W-W ed board approves 'austere' budget

A $43 million status quo budget, containing no new programs, teachers or equipment, but rather concentrating on keeping up with inflation and salary increases, was adopted Monday night by the Wayne-Westland Board of Education.

The budget message from Supt. Timothy Dyer, included his opinion that "a tax rate increase is in all likelihood unavoidable" if a status quo budget is to be approved next year.

The "severely austere" 78-79 budget contains 65 less positions than last year, accomplished through attrition. There were no layoffs of regular staff.

There are no capital outlay purchases in the budget, no furniture purchases, and severe curtailment of field trips, teacher inservice, attendance at workshops and conferences, and custodial overtime.

"Postponed" from the budget are purchase of new school buses, purchase of supplemental materials (library books, and such), and purchase of new athletic equipment except for safety essentials.

Personnel will not be replaced unless "absolutely necessary" or unless the position generates its own funding source.

Because the budget merely delays the inevitable in some cases — for instance, purchase of school buses — the tax increase is suggested. Dyer did not name any figure, but noted that "Wayne-Westland has not had a tax rate increase (for school operation, excluding bond issues) for 12 years."

Dyer did assure the board that the budget is "balanced" and "manageable" and that student programs are "secure and intact."

As budget director Richard Keilhacker went through a 12-page summary of the budget in a page by page analysis prepared for the public hearing, the story was clear.

Across the whole budget are salary increases in accordance with union contracts. In many of the same departments, materials, supplies and purchases are slashed. Dyer began his budget message with a list of good news. In that category he listed: the fact that the budget is balanced; enrollment is very close to projection of 23,000 (thanks to increased continuing education numbers); maintenance of curricular and co-curricular programs; and 65 less positions.

The biggest plus for residents, he added, is the "tax rollback" from the state that allowed the district to cut the tax rate by 3.49 mills (from 37.65 to 34.16).

Dyer emphasized that the rollback doesn't account for any additional money for the district, but shifts the funding source from local taxes to the state. The special section of the state aid act gave the district a break because of its high millage rate. The district can levy the lower amount of millage, while the state will make it up.

Dyer's bad news column began with inflation. Simply put, the costs of running the district are going up faster than revenues, he said.

Dyer repeated his past complaints about the state aid formula (separate from the rollback provision) saying that Wayne-Westland was hurt because the formula did not increase this year at the same rate it increased in the past several years. Funding levels stayed at the last year's rate. State dollars did increase, but not at the rate that costs went up.

The major factor in the cost increase is salaries. This is the third and most costly year of the labor agreement with the teachers, and, depending on the cost of living adjustment, salaries could increase between 8½ and 11½ percent, Dyer said.

In addition the staff is becoming older, and therefore more expensive. Fringe benefits also are up.

Dyer then listed price increases in some major items: Textbooks up 50 percent; buses up 15 percent; health and accident insurance up 29 percent, and on and on.

Keilhacker noted, that the 77-78 budget year may end up in deficit, which could go as high as $400,000, and would have to be made up in the 78-79 year.

The budget was approved unanimously, with Robert Reichard, who arrived late, absent on the vote.

It's a budget "without much wiggle in it," Stephen Kelly commented wryly.

All tutoring is planned to follow guidelines set by the tutoring program coordinator and the teachers of the students who are getting help, Mrs. Kordel said.

The tutors also have the responsibility of attending their own scheduled classes, and when out of the high school, getting back to class. They also keep journals of their thoughts and reactions and consult frequently with Mrs. Kordel on any problems they themselves have or come across in the classroom with the student with whom they work and study.

The enthusiasm of the tutors for the program is responsible in part for its growth and it is being received outside the high school with an equal amount of enthusiasm on the part of those in junior high or elementary school who appreciate the help.

According one Wayne Memorial tutor: "You teach them to learn to help themselves. Then they can walk without you."

That statement, in itself tells the story of what tutoring does for a student with learning problem and the attitude of those who can help.

Health Beat

Hypertension and high blood pressure

By RUSS TUTTLE
 Director, Community Relations
 Peoples Community Hospital Authority

There are times when I'm almost overwhelmed by the mail which finds its way to my desk. Some of what I receive merits only a cursory glance and is quickly relegated to an appropriate repository. Other mailings, however, I find to be explanatory and informative.

Today I received a booklet published by the Channing L. Bete Co., Inc. of Greenfield, Mass. This booklet, 'You and Your Blood Pressure', prompted me to sit down with some professionals to research a column on what has been identified as an insidious malady: high blood pressure or hypertension. Some of what I write today will be quoted from the Bete Co. booklet; I'm very happy to give them a credit line.

You should know, initially, that blood pressure can be defined as "The force with which blood pushes against the walls of your blood vessels . . . determined by the size of the arteries which is regulated by a system of hormones and chemicals and certain nerve cells which try to keep pressure fairly steady."

It is to the English physician William Harvey (1578-1657) that credit must be given for the discovery of the circulation of blood from the left side of the heart via the aorta and its subdivisions and to the right side by the venous system.

From the time of Harvey's monumental discovery in 1616 to modern times, researchers have expended considerable energy and intellect experimenting with the circulatory system in attempts to make life over-all a more satisfying experience, and to reduce to the extent possible, disease associated with circulation.

Still there remains this persistent physiological distress known as hypertension — a condition in which all causal factors have yet to be identified. Researchers have in general agreed that there are certain (traditional) explanations for the incidence of hypertension.

Among these more traditional factors are: an inappropriate diet, the lack of exercise associated with so many people, and the possibility of a family disposition toward the condition.

Herbert Benson, MD, Associate Professor of Medicine at the Harvard Medical School in his book, 'The Relaxation Response', suggests a fourth possible cause of hypertension: environmental stress.

According to Dr. Benson, "The stressful consequences of living in our modern, Western society — constant insecurity in a job, inability to make deadlines because of the sheer weight of obligations, or the shift in social rules once binding and now inappropriate . . . can lead to diseases such as hypertension."

"Humans, like other animals, react in a predictable way to acute and chronic stressful situations, which trigger an in-born response that has been part of our physiologic makeup for millions of years."

This has been popularly labeled the 'fight-or-flight' response. When we are faced with situations that require adjustment of our behavior, an involuntary response increases our blood pressure, heart rate, rate of breathing, blood flow to the muscles, and metabolism, preparing us for conflict or escape."

Dr. Benson also said that when not used appropriately, which is most of the time, the 'fight-or-flight' response repeatedly elicited may ultimately lead to the dire diseases of heart attack and stroke.

What the good doctor proposes is that we learn how to adjust appropriately to the inevitable stresses of contemporary existence.

Easier said than done?

Perhaps. But, you might want to go to the library and pick up a copy of Dr. Benson's book. I've read the book, and think there are some interesting suggestions offered.

However, back to the basics. When you enter your physician's treatment room, most likely he (or she) will check your blood pressure. This simple, painless procedure is accomplished with the use of a sphygmomanometer (now that's a mouthful which can be shortened and have more meaning if you simply call it a cuff which is wrapped around your biceps) and a stethoscope.

An air tube is attached to the cuff; at the end of the tube is a rubber bulb-like apparatus. The physician squeezes air into the tube and you feel the cuff tightening on your arm. At a certain point, the artery is collapsed and blood flow ceases. Air is then released from the cuff and the physician listens through the stethoscope for the first sound of blood once again moving through the artery.

As he listens, he also watches a vertical column of mercury calibrated in millimeters which is also attached to the cuff. When he hears the blood once again moving, he notes the number on the column of mercury. That figure is the numerator (upper number) of your blood pressure which is technically known as systole.

What should your reading be? I hesitate to type any specific numbers because I'd be moving into the area of practicing medicine, and one physician told me, "He who practices medicine on himself has a fool for a patient."

What we really want to get across today is the fact that hypertension is evident in possibly 30 percent of the adult population, and many of the victims are not aware of their condition because they have not been to a doctor for many years and had this simple blood pressure check.

There are no cures per se for hypertension. But, and this is vital, hypertension can be controlled. Maybe it just might be a good idea to have your blood pressure checked. It can't hurt you, and the good that can be accomplished certainly makes the effort worthwhile.

Possession is...

"They're mine now," says Fritz Lobbestael who cited the rule of possession is nine-tenths of the law to defend himself for uprooting Democratic candidate for supervisor Noel Culbert's oversized campaign signs. As fast as Culbert could dig the postholes and anchor the signs into the Canton farmer's cornfield, the signs were being torn down and stacked into Lobbestael's pick-up truck. "And I plan to keep them, because he was trespassing," Lobbestael said. The township ordinance doesn't allow political signs of 32 square feet in size. So in circumventing the ordinance Culbert took his billboard-like signs and planted them in grounds just barely crossing over the township's boundaries. "But he was outsmarted by me and the Horton Trespass Law," Lobbestael quipped.

Farmer claims signs under trespass law

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

Thoroughly enjoying himself, Noel Culbert thought he really "out did" himself this time with his political sign stunt. But the attorney running for Canton Township supervisor didn't count on Canton farmer Fritz Lobbestael to come along and stump his stunt.

The Democrat attempted to avoid the township's strict sign ordinance by erecting oversized 32-square foot signs on properties just outside the township's borders.

Although in his campaign speeches, he lashes out at political foes trying to relax the ordinance to allow larger signs, Culbert admitted to circumventing the ordinance himself.

"But I did it legally," he said. Well, he may have beaten the legal language of the ordinance, but he struck out when he unexpectedly came face to face with the "Horton Trespass Law."

"He thinks like most attorneys. They think they can play right up to the legal line and laugh at us supposedly inferior people who don't know any better," said an angry Lobbestael.

'He thinks like most attorneys...'

"What Culbert wasn't prepared for was me and the trespass law."

Lobbestael began taking down the signs anchored in his cornfields as fast as Culbert was digging the postholes and planting them into the ground.

The two signs, which Culbert says were very expensive, were posted at Michigan Avenue, just outside of the township and at Denton and Mott roads about 200 feet outside of the border.

Lobbestael rents the land from landowner Bob Mott. Both said they never gave Culbert permission to utilize the land for political purposes.

Within three hours after the signs were erected Lobbestael had them uprooted and thrown into the back of his pick-up truck.

"And that's where they're going to stay," Lobbestael said. "They are mine, and he's not going to get them back."

Culbert said he gained permission from the landowner's real estate agent, James Poole, to erect the signs adding that he thought that the signs had been stolen.

"Well, I'm glad to hear that they weren't stolen by my political opponents," Culbert said. "Maybe I can get them put back up sooner than you think, if I'm nice to Fritz."

Flattery will get the "lawless lawyer" nowhere, Lobbestael said.

Currently, the sign ordinance is being rewritten. The current administration is attempting to relax the restrictions on size, types and amount of signs to be erected by the business community.

When Culbert was asked if he felt he was being inconsistent in his speeches and his campaign tactics, he replied: "no, I wasn't doing anything illegal. I put them up outside of the township."

City credits media

Paving begins along Michigan Avenue in Inkster

Inkster City officials are glad that state officials watch television. At least they credit the work of a Detroit Television film crew with getting the paving started on Michigan Ave.

"Dwayne X. Riley of Channel 4 came out and did an extensive interview with Mayor Terrel LeCesne, myself and other people involved in this paving project," explained Wally Arrowsmith, Inkster City Manager.

"He also talked with Warren Cox, district engineer of the State Highway Department, who's in charge of this area of the state."

Arrowsmith said he wasn't quite sure what exactly was the catalyst to getting things moving, but wet cement starting pouring early Tuesday. "And I'm sure that the television interview had a lot to do with it," Arrowsmith surmised.

Arrowsmith said parts of the filmed interview with Mayor LeCesne appeared on three or four different news broadcasts on Channel 4, WDIV Detroit.

"We're certainly happy Channel 4 came out and brought attention to our situation," he added.

And where did the television station find out about the paving difficulty in Inkster? "They said they read about it in the newspaper," Arrowsmith laughed.

The veteran city administrator said TV reporter Riley seemed fascinated by the story of the long-time paving hold-up and did an extensive, thorough job of reporting it.

"Riley told me that Cox could give no reason for the long paving delay," Arrowsmith said. And, of course, that's not really new to city officials who feel they have been misled for some time.

"We have reason to believe that for some reason a decision was made to write Inkster off and to delay completion of this project until next spring," LeCesne told Council members and a packed council chamber audience.

"The main thoroughfare through our city has been literally botched up, and practically shut down during rush hours. Our major intersections are intolerable and our patience has been worn thin," the mayor said.

"The end result is that we have local businesses that are facing financial collapse, a beleaguered citizenry, and harassed local officials who have least to do with the project itself."

But if the first two days of this week are any indication, the paving looks well on its way.

Arrowsmith reported that some of the right turn lanes at the intersections of Henry Ruff, Middlebelt Road, and Harrison have been paved. He added that the reinforcing steel mesh was in for the right turn at the southwest corner of Inkster Road and Michigan Ave.

"Despite all our letters to state officials and the governor, this television exposure has gotten things going," Arrowsmith said.

Before Michigan Avenue was torn up to start the widening of the state highway into a eight-lane divided highway, more than 55,000 vehicles daily passed the Michigan Avenue-Middlebelt and Michigan Avenue-Inkster Road intersections.

"Some 18,000 vehicles crossed Michigan Ave. north and south at Middlebelt and 17,000 vehicles daily crossed on Inkster road going north and south," he said.

Arrowsmith said the Wayne County Road Commission report stated that 38,000 cars passed Middlebelt and Inkster roads daily on Michigan Ave. in an east-west direction.

"Of course, since the road has been torn up for construction, there's only a small percentage of that number using Michigan Ave. now."

"In my 25 years experience as a city manager, I've never seen a major paving project planned so poorly," Arrowsmith said, shaking his head. "Apparently, they never gave any thought to planning ahead where they would get the needed cement."

Arrowsmith said Peter Fletcher, chairman of the State Highway Commission is coming to Inkster to meet with city council at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

"I believe, from the governor on down, that somebody has to be shaken up and alerted to the fact that we are facing a crisis in the City of Inkster," Mayor LeCesne said.

Inkster sues Highway Department over delays in avenue's paving

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Their patience worn razor-thin by constant paving delays on Michigan Avenue, Inkster City Council has voted unanimously to sue the State Highway Department and its contractor, John Carlo, Inc.

Council authorized City Attorney Bernard Friedman to file the suit for what city officials call a "string of broken promises."

The lawsuit, filed last Tuesday in Wayne County Circuit Court, is asking for "injunctive relief" and cites the dangers and hazards, lack of barricades, open ditches and other potential accident-causing situations on the unfinished paving project. Also in question is the loss of business revenue to the merchants on Michigan Avenue while both sides of the state highway have been torn up from one end of the city to the other.

A hearing on the case has been scheduled for mid-November before Circuit court Judge Joseph B. Sullivan.

"The City of Inkster is basically asking two things," Friedman explained. "The city is asking the courts to order the State Highway Department and Carlo Construction Co. to complete the paving project immediately."

"Secondly, the city is further asking that, in the interim, those paving Michigan Avenue take care of the safety hazards, such as traffic congestion, open ditches, open manholes, traffic control and other dangers."

Friedman said that the suit also mentions monetary loss. City officials claim the excessive length of time to complete the Michigan Avenue paving project has hurt the city financially.

They cited loss of revenue to the city during construction, loss of new businesses moving into the city and also the fact that more money had to be spent providing extra city services.

Because there are long stretches of highway and right turn lanes dug out and waiting to be paved, many vehicles have had accidents.

"From May until Oct. 17, the police reported they received 109 calls from people who had accidents running off the edge of the cement," said Inkster City Manager Wally Arrowsmith.

"In addition, there were an estimated 300 to 400 other accidents where people called tow trucks to free their vehicles that had run off the cement into the dug out areas."

City officials have long contended there were not enough barricades and especially lighted barricades so motorists could see the dangerous holes at night.

"We have just learned a painful lesson of bureaucratic prevarication, ineptitude, and insensitivity to the needs of the people of this community," said Inkster Mayor Terrel LeCesne in asking council to approve the suit.

Council's approval came after paving on Michigan Avenue still had not started Oct. 13, two full days after the final "deadline" set by Inkster officials.

Failure of Carlo Construction Co. to start the paving as promised was the proverbial straw that broke the camel's back and led to the city's lawsuit.

Bees to be studied

A guest speaker from England and a film on killer bees will be featured at the fall meeting of the Schoolcraft College Beekeepers Association Friday.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in F-270 of the Forum Building on campus. The general public is welcome.

The speaker is Karl Showler, an officer of the International Bee Research Association located near London. He is on a week's tour of Michigan and will be at Schoolcraft to view its outstanding hobby beekeepers program.

The film, "Killer Bee: Fact or Fantasy" will be shown. There will be displays, including bee research association materials, and a general question and answer session.

The Schoolcraft association was organized by persons who have taken the beekeeping practices class offered through continuing education at the college.

The class will be offered again in the winter semester, beginning late in February. Additional information is available from Instructor Roger Sutherland.

MUSKAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

When people talk about avant-garde jazz, they are talking about musical experimentation. Much of the pioneering work in this area has been done by a group called the Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians. Their emphasis is on what is called texture and color. Variations are achieved through the use of a single musician playing many instruments, from kazoo and toy harmonicas to more traditional saxophones and pianos. New approaches to group content have also been tried. For instance, experiments have been made with a jazz group without a drummer.

Whether your idea of good music is classical or jazz, we at DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 can meet your musical needs. We feature a magnificent selection of pianos and organs and have the instructors available to give lessons. Watch for our occasional specials. Master Charge and Visa honored.

"How can you tell if the person at your door is really a Michigan Bell Employee?"

As you may have noticed, our employees do not wear uniforms. They dress in the way they think is most appropriate to get their jobs done. While this permits them to look like the individuals they are, it really doesn't help you identify them as Bell employees. But, there is a way. Every Michigan Bell employee is required to carry a Michigan Bell identification card giving his or her name, photograph, and signature. For your protection, be sure to see this card before you admit them into your home. They'll be happy to show it to you.

Rec center's purchase boils over into controversy

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

It was a "cooking" controversy back in June, but today the purchase of the recreation hall is boiling into controversy.

Canton Township purchased the senior citizens' recreation hall on Michigan Avenue, apparently without giving due consideration to a Sheldon Elementary School site on Geddes Road.

Both sites, a mile apart, were available for consideration at the time of the vote, but only the site purchased was discussed.

"I feel we may have made a gross mistake," Trustee Lynne Goldsmith said.

Maria Falkiewicz, candidate for treasurer, Tuesday disclosed that the school was put on the auction block in March — four months before Canton decided on purchasing the existing recreation facility.

"The school would have been much better," Mrs. Falkiewicz said. The school site is about eight acres larger than the site actually chosen; there is a large fully-equipped gymnasium; and the facility is about 10,812 square feet in size.

"It's much larger. It has two buildings to offer, kitchen facilities, recreation facilities and was available when we chose the other site," she added.

Mrs. Falkiewicz questions why the township board purchased the Michigan Avenue site for $105,000 (non-inclusive of the $35,000 remodeling costs expended by the township) when they had full knowledge of the alternative site. Supervisor Harold Stein said he had been aware of the Sheldon School site being placed on the open-bid market for about two years, "but you can't consider something that isn't available."

However, Mrs. Goldsmith contended that the only reason the board failed to consider the second site was because Stein refused to discuss another possibility.

She said if she had been given the choice, she would have opted for the school site without any hesitation.

Because of the failure to conduct a cost comparison study between the two sites, there is justification for citizens to severely criticize the board for the purchase of the existing site, she added.

The Michigan Avenue facility was being leased by the township at $200 a month, and the lease agreement was not due for expiration for another six years.

"I don't see why we rushed into purchasing it. There was no public input. They rushed it onto an agenda with no public notice," Mrs. Falkiewicz said.

How, the township's recreation committee is taking a look at the school site for possible purchasing. But one recreation hall in the township's southern section is enough, Mrs. Goldsmith said.

"I am strongly against purchasing both sites. Our decision may be a gross error, but it can't be corrected by buying the other site," she argued.

According to Manuel L. Lentine, director of purchasing for the Wayne-Westland Community Schools the school site's fair bid is at about $350,000.

Even if the township favored the existing recreation hall, Mrs.

Falkiewicz reasoned, with the public disclosure that two sites were up for consideration, they could have used the alternative site as a "bargaining point" to possibly bring down the purchase price of the first location.

To her, the purchase was of major importance to the township, and she have included both cost and site comparison studies.

County wants Milliken named in layoffs lawsuit

Three Wayne County commissioners are spearheading a move to add Gov. William Milliken and other state officials to lawsuits by union officials and some elected county officials who are seeking to block the layoffs of county employees.

Richard E. Manning (D-Redford-Livonia) Ervin Steiner (R-Grosse Pointe) and Edgar Harris (D-Taylor) are charging that the state "has thrown so many multi-million dollar programs at the county, without saying how they can be funded," that, it, too, must be held "accountable" for the county's serious financial dilemma.

"In addition," Manning said, "the question of who holds the purse strings in Wayne County must be clarified and enforced once and for all."

The Board of Commissioners is named as defendants in the suits.

The three commissioners asked the Ways and Means Committee of the County Board of Commissioners to direct its lawyers to file a motion in court to add Gov. Milliken, the Lt. Governor, allstate lawmakers, state administrators and the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission as defendants to all layoff-related lawsuits.

The motion was approved by a 12 to 6 vote at the Oct. 18 Ways and Means budget meeting.

The Commissioners also voted to take legal action that would immediately disqualify the whole Third Judicial Circuit (Wayne County) from hearing layoff-related cases because they said they could not get a fair hearing before state judges in Wayne County. They claimed the Wayne circuit bench is an "interested party" to the suits.

The commissioners said they wanted all such cases moved to another circuit court, or to federal court, as applicable.

"We are facing a constitutional crisis in Wayne County," Manning said. "The prosecuting attorney, the drain commissioner, the county treasurer and the county clerk have refused to give layoff notices to their employees in direct violation of what this board has authorized."

"In my opinion, this amounts to defiance of a lawful order. The Board of Commissioners is the legislative body for Wayne County, and we are constitutionally mandated to determine how the people's money is spent.

'The State owes us

"We directly represent the people in the governing of Wayne County. The other elected officials do not! They were elected to do a job."

Council 25 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) and Wayne County Prosecutor William F. Cahalan already have filed suits to stop the impending layoffs, slated for today. Other elected officials, including county judges and the county clerk, have stated they may go to court to stop layoffs in their departments.

In addition, the county commissioners, facing a $15 million budget deficit this year, are appealing a $6.3 million arbitration award to 650 Wayne County Sheriff's deputies.

The commissioners said that it is this award that is forcing the November layoffs of 490 regular county employees and 537 federally-funded CETA workers, employed under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

"The current prosecutor's lawsuit—and threats by the county clerk and the courts that they will take us to court to force us to fund their departments at the level they deem necessary—are mainly directed at state-mandated programs," Steiner said.

"Therefore, the state has an obligation to pay for them."

"If people are suing us on the basis of mandated services, then the people who mandated those services ought to be a party to the lawsuit."

Harris charged that the state also is not paying its debts to Wayne County.

"The State owes us $8 million, mainly for the operation of mental health programs, which, by law, they are required to pay," he explained. "Well, they are not paying—and it's about time that we took direct action to collect that money. If we can pry loose those funds, then and only then will we be in a position to plan our budget."

4-H Handicapped Riding Program wins accolades

The 4-H Horseback Riding for Handicapped Program has won the highest award that the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service can accord.

The John Hannah Award, given each year for program excellence, was presented to Dr. Richard Dunn, MSU Extension specialist, animal husbandry, and Laurie Kaplan Fox, MSU Extension specialist in animal husbandry and 4-H youth programs. Dr. Dunn directs the overall Extension 4-H horse program and Kaplan Fox coordinates the 4-H horseback riding program for handicappers.

Dr. John Hannah, retired MSU president, presented the award Oct. 24 during MSU Extension's annual conference.

The program originated at the Cheff Center for the Handicapped at Augusta, which has operated a therapeutic riding program since 1969. MSU 4-H personnel were contacted by Cheff Center personnel in 1973 to explore the possibilities of integrating therapeutic riding into the state 4-H riding program.

A pilot program was conducted in Genesee County during the fall of 1973 and in spring of 1974. The success convinced 4-H staff that the program should be an integral part of the state-wide 4-H effort.

Since 1975, 29 Michigan counties have developed horseback riding for handicappers programs. These counties have worked with 2,500 handicappers, 3,700 volunteers and 41 trained instructors. This program is the first of its kind in the United States.

Today the program is a community effort involving people of all ages from 4-H, the horse industry, local school districts and service organizations.

The program teaches skills. Students who have physical, mental or emotional handicaps, or who are blind or deaf learn how to control the horse from the ground and the saddle. Programs are geared toward individual needs, using the horse to help improve coordination, balance, posture, attitude, confidence and self-respect.

Wonderland Chorus wins Barbershopper district title

The Wayne Chapter of the Society For the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBQSA) is going international.

The chapter, 52 men strong and under the direction of Steve Sutherland, recently won the right to represent the Pioneer District in international competition next July 3.

The chapter collected that honor by placing first in competition against 16 other chapters. If it were to win at the international level, the chapter — Wayne Wonderland Chorus — would represent the best of the society's 38,000 members.

This marks the fifth time the chorus has been district champion. It won in 1964, 1967, 1971 and 1976. It also competed once in international competition in 1975.

The chapter beat out greats such as Detroit 1, Oakland and Grosse Pointe choruses to win. A unique twist to the victory, however, was that Wayne's president Jim McLane was able to share the win with his 13-year-old son, Jimmie. Both sang with the Wonderland Chorus.

Adding to the win was the choreography of Tom Pollard of Livonia, associate director Gordon Limberg of Plymouth and Andy Lesperanes of Northland.

As one member said: "Many members try a lifetime to make it to the international stage. We have the honor of being No. 1 again, and we want to best at international to win."

The Wayne Wonderland Chorus rehearses every Tuesday evening at Plymouth Salem High School in Canton Township. The chapter currently is preparing for its March 2-3 shoe and local engagements for organizations requesting talents.

The doors of the majestic State Theatre are closed.

A fixture in the city for more than three decades, the theatre is the victim of raising costs, TV and economics.

Built in 1946 by the late Walter Shafer, State Theatre is owned by Shafer's widow, Lillian, and their two sons — Charles and Martin.

Charles Shafer explained why they were forced to close the State.

"Believe me, it was one of the most difficult decisions our family had to make," said Shafer. "We were losing money and there wasn't any alternatives — we had to close."

"And, when we came to the ultimate decision to shut that movie house down, there were tears in my mother's eyes — we kept that place open for the last six months on sheer sentiment alone."

Shafer said that the movie house located on Michigan Ave., across from the mall, had lost money for the last five quarters, but he said he didn't wish to reveal the figure. He added, "that at present we have no plans for the building."

Shafer pointed out that one of the reasons that led to the theatre's demise "was that we were constantly being outbid for the better movies and that Walt Disney Studios had hiked their prices to the point where we just couldn't buy their movies."

"We lost the Disney pictures because they insisted that we pay them $1.25 for every child and $1.50 for every adult that saw their movies. That would mean we would have to hike our prices radically — and the area wouldn't buy that."

Shafer also said that the tendency of the movie industry today is to build multi-screen movie houses "because they are more economical to operate."

"The old time theatres are fading because of the cost factor — the heating, air conditioning, upkeep and many other factors involved," said Shafer, "and, though there is a sentimental value attached to these buildings, you just can't keep them open on sentiment."

Shafer said he did meet with members of the local government in hopes of resolving the problem, "but, I'm afraid at this point in time we have no ready made solutions to the problem."

The Shafers also own the Wayne Drive-In, Quo Vadis, Dearborn Theatre, Algiers Drive In and the La Parisian.

Inkster tot faces 7th operation

'Skooter' seeks his lost pal, Kelly

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer
A boy and his dog is an especially touching thought.

But even more moving is the true story of a two-year-old Inkster boy whose pet dog ran away on the eve of his seventh operation.

Anybody seen Kelly?

Little two-year-old Theron Myers plays with his toy dog on his mother's lap while he waits for his parents, David and Penny Myers, to find his real dog, Kelly. Theron called "Skooter" by his dad, will soon enter the hospital for his seventh operation to correct a birth defect.

Theron Myers will enter the hospital Nov. 5 to correct a birth defect known as hydrocephalus, which is excessive fluid in the cranial cavity. More important now to the youngster, however, is finding Kelly, his eight-year-old Labrador retriever, who ran off Sept. 25. "It's all he thinks of anymore," says his father, David. "He walks around with a picture of Kelly in his hand and looks for him."

Myers and his wife, Penny, have received a lot of phone calls since their story appeared in the Detroit News last week. However, all leads so far have led to dead ends.

That doesn't keep them from hoping Kelly will one day soon return to their Pine Grove Trailer Park on Michigan Ave., three blocks west of Inkster Road. "We've received more than 20 calls so far," Myers reported, "and some are really weird, although most people really are trying to help."

Myers said Kelly weighs about 25 pounds and has black, brown and yellow hair, with a white streak down his chest.

"He has a split on the tip of his tongue, too," Myers found Kelly hanging on a cyclone fence when he was a puppy five weeks old. "I saw someone just toss him out the door and he landed on the fence so I told them I was taking him home."

Myers says Kelly even has an ear for music. "If you repeat 'Kelly' three or four times in a sing-song voice, he will start to howl softly like he's trying to sing along," Myers said. "Skooter" — that's the nickname

Myers calls his son — looks every day for Kelly to come home. "When two neighbors, Bob and Bonnie Markey, read the story, they called and asked to see a picture of Kelly," Myers pointed out.

"Bob volunteered to help and came over to drive me to look for Kelly. When he came in and mentioned looking for the dog, Theron came running up to him and held up the picture of Kelly for him to see. That really moved Bob — and helped him determine to do everything he could to find Kelly," said Myers, who is currently unemployed and looking for work.

"We're following up every lead we get and have looked in many places and we appreciate everything everyone is doing to help."

Myers said he has received some odd calls also. "One lady called up and said she was a housekeeper for another family. She said she thought the family she worked for had Kelly but said she couldn't give the name or address or she'd be fired."

"That call was more depressing than anything," he said.

Meanwhile, little Theron keeps an eye peeled for his beloved dog. He will enter Children's Hospital in Detroit on Nov. 5 and be operated on the next day.

If anyone thinks they have seen

Kelly, they are asked to call Myers at 277-2240. They can do a valuable service. They can reunite a boy and his dog.

Beautify Your Home With House Plants

When it comes to decorating, house plants are a natural. Any house can benefit from the addition of a little greenery — and any healthy plant will make itself at home in your home, just as long as the lighting conditions are right for it to grow.

KEEPING LEAVES DUST-FREE is just one favor you can do for your plants.

No matter what part of the house it's in, your plant should be treated and fussed over as you would a piece of fine furniture. So make sure that its leaves are always kept dust-free. A plant that is grown for its foliage, such as ficus or philodendron, will look even better if you use Leaf Gloss to shine it up. Unlike other glosses, the new Leaf Gloss from House In Bloom, which you'll find displayed in your supermarket, won't clog the pores that plants need for breathing.

Look for a plant food on display that is especially made to bring out the best in foliage plants. Take care of your plants — and they'll give you back the gift of beauty.

This was prepared by experts in the plant care laboratories of House In Bloom.

Canton Township Supervisor Harold Stein's vote on a bank's rezoning request, while he had a pending loan application with the same bank, has prompted a candidate to request an investigation of his action.

Democratic candidate for the supervisor's seat Noel Culbert has requested the State Attorney General's Office, the U.S. Eastern District Attorney's Office, and the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney's Office to investigate whether Stein is guilty of a conflict of interest.

All three agencies, when contacted by the Canton Eagle said they were not prepared to make a decision yet on whether the matter should be pursued.

On Jan. 24, 1978, Stein along with six other board members, approved a rezoning request made by DownRiver Federal Savings and Loan Association. He registered a yes vote, while he had a pending $93,600 mortgage loan with the bank.

He received the loan six days after he bank's request was approved.

"Off the top of my head I don't think it is anything criminal," said Dominick Carnovale, assistant prosecuting attorney for the county.

Ordinarily, Carnovale said, the local police agency should initially be contacted. After a police investigation, the charge would either be referred to a higher agency, or be dropped.

"I don't know why this Culbert came to us, because we're not really an investigative agency," Carnovale said.

However, Culbert said he thought the three departments, in theory, were capable of handling such an investigation.

"I think they're trying to get out of doing their job, if they don't properly investigate it. If they let it drop, it shows that their too lazy to do their job," Culbert said.

Culbert added that, if need be, he would re-channel the matter to the local police force, but noted that he had reservations in doing so, since Stein could "intimidate" them into "whitewashing" the case.

"I will do it, if that's the only way to get this thing investigated, but I think, if Stein had his hand in the investigation, that nothing will be investigated," he said.

Another point made by Culbert, but not contained in his charge, is whether Stein was financially capable of procuring a loan of that size on his home.

His income at the time of the loan being granted came from his supervisor's position. That amounts to $21,000 annually. It is unclear whether he had a sustaining income from his place of business in Westland which was being foreclosed on just prior to his receiving the home mortgage loan.

With only a $21,000 income Stein may not have been able to latch on to a $93,600 loan according to five mortgage loan officers from various financial institutions contacted by the Eagle.

However, that matter may not be pursued by the police or any of the three departments contacted by Culbert.

Leonard Gilman, chief investigator for the state attorney general's office said that his office could not pursue that issue unless the bank filed a complaint against Stein questioning the integrity of his income statements submitted when applying for the loan.

"That's a private matter between the bank, and Stein," said Gilman.

According to officials from the bank, they have no reason to question the propriety of Stein's actions with them.

Area seniors bring 'TLC' to elementary students

More than 100 seniors citizens from the Wayne-Westland area have volunteered to be "grandpersons" in the TLC (Teacher Learning Communities) program in 14 elementary schools.

The seniors will work with young students during school hours either individually, in small groups or large groups, on a variety of subjects.

The program is designed not only as an academic aid for students, but to increase communication and understanding between the older and younger generations.

TLC was first introduced in one Wayne-Westland school last year. Spearheaded by art teacher Delores Zonca and modeled after a similar program in Ann Arbor, Washington Elementary School on Glenwood began the TLC program. About 80 children participated.

Ms. Zonca considered that first year a success, then offered the program to all the elementary schools. The 14 schools that have taken up the offer are Edison, Elliott, Hamilton, Jefferson, Madison, McKee, Patchen, Roosevelt, McGrath, Vandenberg, Walker-Sheldon, Washington, Wildwood, the Wayne-Westland annex at St. Mary's, and Norris School.

The senior volunteers will each be assigned to a school, and will visit it once a week for about four hours, said Ms. Zonca. Each school will have a cooperating teacher who will budget the grandpersons' time. Teachers may request that a grandperson come to their classroom, and work with small groups, individuals, or the whole class.

A particular grandperson may visit three or four classrooms in one day. The work is totally voluntary on the part of the senior citizens.

This year, grandpersons will work with students in all curriculum areas instead of limiting their work to arts and crafts as was done last year. Grandpersons will work with children in homemaking, handwriting, language arts, math, special education, story telling, career experiences and even conversational foreign languages. Some of the grandpersons are fluent in various languages and the program will take advantage of that skill.

Another unusual "subject" will be oral history, or living history. Ms.

Zonca explained. As citizens who have lived in the area for many years, some of the seniors have first hand knowledge of the growth of the local community and can give the students a personal account of the area's history as he or she remembers it.

Educators and historians are becoming more and more aware of the value of this personal remembrance in recording history.

The program is designed to benefit both the students, who appreciate older persons and gain information and attention from them, and the seniors, who realize their importance and value in the education process.

Personal satisfaction and positive attitude is seen as a goal of the program, in addition to measurable academic skills.

Right now, the program is operating on something less than a shoestring budget. Ms. Zonca is allowed three days "release time" to coordinate the program, which operates out of the Continuing Education Department, headed by James Lombard. Any supplies that are needed are from the participating school.

Ms. Zonca hopes to write up a grant application for state or federal funding to continue TLC.

The senior citizen orientation was held last week, with Lombard, Deputy Supt. Dennis O'Neill and representatives from senior programs in the cities of Wayne and Westland and Wayne-Westland Schools participating.

The grandpersons will probably begin classroom work during the first week in November, after meeting with staff at the various schools and getting organized.

In the meantime, the program is still seeking volunteer aides who might be interested in donating time to help the grandpersons. One of the major functions of these support persons will be to see that the seniors have transportation to and from the buildings.

Volunteers, either to be support aides or grandpersons, can call Ms. Zonca at 721-8475.

With TLC

Naturally, you probably think that T.L.C. stands for tender loving care. In the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, it has a second meaning, too, although the loving care is part of it. The Teacher Learning Communities (TLC) is a program that recruits "grandpersons" who volunteer their time to help out in elementary classrooms. They teach youngsters individually or in groups, and use their knowledge in every subject from math to language to crafts to oral community history. About 100 grandpersons are starting the program in 14 elementary schools in Wayne and Westland.

Fuel funding cluds helicopter issue

The rule of law is changing, perhaps enabling helicopters to fly in the sky on federal funding fuel.

But in a recent fact-finding showdown, whirlybird critics in Canton Township decided it best to leave the flying to others and opted against purchasing three surplus Army helicopters.

No helicopters; no federal dollars, says Canton grant coordinator Terry Carroll.

"It appears that Canton would have to show an effort by having helicopters before they'd most likely qualify for federal assistance," he said.

Originally, Supervisor Harold Stein told board members that federal assistance could be the push needed to initiate a helicopter police patrol service in surrounding communities in Western Wayne County, with Canton being the lead agent.

If the federal dollars didn't come through, he said the township, with its bargain-purchase of the three Army helicopters, nabbed at $500 each, could be stored and later sold at a profit.

But from all appearances federal funding does not appear likely.

Maria Falkiewicz, candidate for treasurer, and trustee Lynne Goldsmith concluded independent investigations into the concept.

Both learned that the federal government's law enforcement assistance administration is not receptive to (EAA) funding helicopter programs for police protection. It feels there isn't the need for an aviation patrol in communities such as Canton where crime is not running rampant.

Now it appears that with the board's decision not to purchase the choppers even the whirlybird critics are beginning to ponder whether they made the right decision.

"If it was a five-year grant that covered operational costs for us, hey I'm not so sure I wouldn't be for choppers, too," said Mrs. Goldsmith in a Canton Eagle interview.

She said it all depends on the amount of funding obtained and the length of time the funding is spread across as to whether she would be in favor of going through with a helicopter purchase.

While Stein said the board "blew their chance" to grab a good bargain, Mrs. Goldsmith and Mrs. Falkiewicz say that choppers are always available from the federal government.

Mrs. Goldsmith added that the township first must learn all sides to the funding issue before any helicopters are purchased.

Carroll said there are three types of LEAA grants being offered through a new policy change at the federal level. Expected to be approved by the first of the year, the change would emphasize group community funding as opposed to the federal government dishing out money to each individual community with its own programs.

The program that Canton would most likely fall under is termed the innovative (discretionary) program. During the first three years, 100 percent of operational costs to run a helicopter service would be absorbed by the grant, and an additional two-year option would be written into the language of the grant, according to Carroll.

But Canton, along with neighboring communities, must competitively bid for the grant. Canton must exhibit more of a financial need than other communities for such a grant.

That may be the downfall of latching onto grants, he said.

About $82.5 million would be available throughout the entire country.

Even with the change in policy, the federal government's attitude toward funding helicopter programs may still not be receptive.

To solve dispute

Westland, pool contractor may go to court

The City of Westland, and the contractor hired to build the city's swimming pool, appear headed for court to settle a long-standing dispute regarding completion of the $85,000 facility.

The pool is part of the recreation complex behind city hall, dedicated and opened a few weeks ago. Work on the pool is partially completed. The hole was dug; the concrete poured. The view from the patio of the recreation center, is one of a pool of dirty water, surrounded by earth and some high grown weeds, and a high wire and a concrete enclosure surrounding the pool area.

According to Dave Rochman, vice-president of Perma-Bilt Pool Construction Co., which was hired to build the pool, it has been 10 months since he has had anyone working on the site.

Rochman and the city are at odds over who is responsible for problems with the project. The difficulties arise from the water table in that area, which like much of Westland, is quite high.

It has caused problems since the project began. After digging of the pool began, water caved in the excavation, and water-soaked soil has continued to cause ground water pressures problems at the site.

Armed with a list of complaints against the contractor, the city sent Perma-Bilt a notice to terminate the contract in late August. The city claimed that the contractor "failed to properly protect the excavation" by using techniques to keep water out, and because of that, a retaining wall around the pool site, cracked. The wall was put up by the contractor who built the recreation center, and done before Perma-Bilt began work.

The city blames Perma-Bilt for the crack because it allegedly did not install necessary hydrostatic relief valves to pump water away from the site.

Rochman's version of the cracked wall and the problems connected with the project, is quite different. He insists that errors made by the architect and contractor who built the recreation center have caused the difficulties. The biggest error was installation of that retaining wall before the digging of the pool, Rochman maintains.

"The wall should never have been put up in soil saturated with water," he said. "They know the cave-in wasn't our fault. They approved $12,000 in extra money to do extra work because of the cave-in."

Rochman is talking about suing the city for the $18,000 he maintains that the city owes him.

"As far as we're concerned, the city negated and broke the contract when they refused to pay for work that was approved by the architect and city."

His attorneys also are hinting that damages may be demanded from the city in an eventual court case because of the injury to the company's reputation as a resolution of the dispute.

Mayor Thomas Taylor also is of the opinion that the matter will find its ultimate solution in court, but with a different outcome.

"We're saying that the (retaining) wall was there once he (Rochman) came on the site. If though there was a problem he should have either told us he couldn't do it, or have asked for the extra because of the wall."

Taylor added that the bid specifications indicated the unique problem that the city has with the high water table and did state that any contractor would have to use well points to dry up the site.

He said that as far as the city is concerned, the contractor failed to de-water the site, did not do the work properly, refused to correct errors, then abandoned the project. That gives the city the right to ask the bond company insuring Perma-Bilt for compensation, Taylor maintains. Rochman responded that he didn't abandon the project, but has not gone back because he's not been paid the money owed him.

City, pool contractor square off

The question remaining seems to be who is going to sue whom first.

In the meantime, Taylor said he has asked the architect to draw up new bid specifications to "correct the problem and finish the job."

He said that the pool must be finished before the city can "establish the damages" and enter into litigation against the contractor.

He said he does not intend to let the project set half done for two years while the lawsuit is litigated, however.

"I don't want attorneys to stop the project while it is decided who is at fault. That can drag out for years and years," Taylor said. "We want it complete and ready for use by July 1, 1979."

Luckily, the city does have the money to complete the job, he added. Both the recreation center and pool, and an already completed industrial park in Westland, were funded with federal Local Public Works funds in late 1976.

There is about $200,000 left over from the industrial park project, Taylor said. The city already has petitioned the Economic Development Administration to use those funds on the pool while the city is sorting out the legal resolution of the problem with Perma-Bilt.

Taylor said the use of those federal funds already has tentative approval.

But Rochman insists that no damages are going to be paid by his bond company, that the matter will be settled either by mutual agreement with the city, an unlikely alternative, or in court. He seems confident that he can prove that the fault does not lie with his company.

He maintains that is someone else does finish the pool, the city will end up paying twice for the facility, since he intends to collect payment for work he's done, plus more in damages.

Rochman said that if he doesn't collect money owed to him, he probably will file suit by the end of the year.

Sempliner vacates post

Canton Township's first legal advisor, William Sempliner, 70, has bowed out as the community's lawyer after more than 25 years of service.

Sempliner, a Plymouth resident, was formerly a resident of Canton.

At the time of his hiring as township attorney, Sempliner was the only attorney residing in Canton. "That's why they hired me," he recalled.

His resignation is apparently due to the growth of Canton and the consequent growth in legal work.

"It's just no longer my cup of tea. It's time for someone else to take over, because I no longer like working for Canton," said Sempliner.

Looking back to the "good old days," Sempliner said that years ago when Canton was predominantly a rural community a criminal case didn't emerge more than once every three to four years.

Today with a police force, the criminal cases are piling one atop another, and he says it takes him four days each week to handle those type cases alone.

Under Supervisor Robert Greenstein's administration, Sempliner's role domain as legal advisor was invaded by the hiring of the legal firm Travis Warren and Burgoyne in Detroit.

From that day on, the second firm began to receive the more "complicated cases" and slowly Sempliner has been edged into the role of only handling ordinance rewrites.

CRUSHED STONE it's basic

Ever since man lived in caves, stone has been his most basic resource. It is even more important today than it was in the Stone Age.

Statistics from the U.S. Bureau of Mines indicate that crushed stone production in 1976 was 900 million tons, valued at $2.12 billion.

In the United States, we now use 8,000 pounds of stone per year for every man, woman, and child. Per capita use of this vital product keeps on growing in highways, buildings, bridges, power plants, waterways, railroads and a hundred and one other uses.

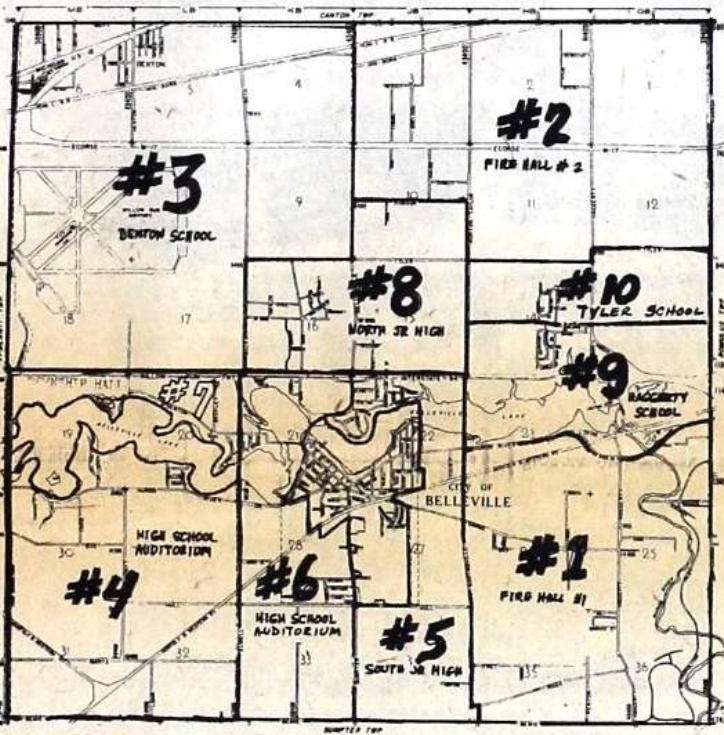

The National Crushed Stone Association reports that production provides over 54,000 jobs nationwide at 5,500 quarries run by 2,000 companies.

Even the repair and repaving of local roads and playgrounds with asphalt (also called bituminous concrete) requires crushed stone as the basic ingredient.

Wayne Jaycees ready for annual yuletide parade

The Holiday Season is but a flip of a calendar page away. There's Thanksgiving, of course, and Christmas with all of its tradition. And one of the Christmas traditions in these parts is the annual Wayne Jaycees' Christmas Parade.

"We want to make this year's Christmas Parade the best ever," said Robert Beeny, one of two - the other is Guy Ritondale - parade chairman. "We need community participation, thus we are issuing an invitation to all of those who wish to take part to get in touch with us."

Beeny said that the local high school bands - Wayne Memorial and John Glenn - will join the festivities and that they have a commitment from neighboring Garden City West High's band to play in the parade.

Several baton twirling groups, including the St. Suzannes' "Sweet Suzettes" and the Falconettes - an all girls' drill team - will join the ranks of the parade.

"We would like to see the youth, seniors, community service clubs, schools, churches and any other and all other organizations build floats and enter them in the parade," said Beeny.

Beeny pointed out that there isn't much time left - the parade this year will be scheduled for Friday, November 24 at 10 a.m., the day after Thanksgiving.

Among some of the dignitaries and special guest will be Milt Wilcox, of the Detroit Tigers, who will be grand marshal of the parade. Also "Burger King" and a score of other clowns will be on hand to entertain the spectators.

For further information about the parade and how to enter, please contact Beeny at 326-7779 or Ritondale at 721-0326.

Organization puts people in 'place'

What can one think of an organization that boasts of putting people in their place? That is exactly what the Michigan Association of School Placement Personnel attempts to do.

Four hundred placement personnel from around the state attended the annual conference at Bay Valley Inn in Bay City on Oct. 24-26. This year's theme was "Placement - A Co-Operative Venture."

Placement personnel assist the schools to secure employment for students and graduates. Their services are intended to benefit both the employing community and the students they serve. The organization was founded in 1975 to benefit placement services across the state in information exchange and in-service training.

Participating from our area was Alice Fugedi, job placement specialist at Romulus Senior High School.

Among the presentors at this year's conference were guests from the U.S. and State Departments of Labor who advised members on changes in the child labor laws, the new minimum wage and other aspects of education including placement.

Other facilitators from throughout the state dealt with such issues as computerized occupational information, apprenticeship training, civil rights issues and employment, model job placement programs, placement training projects and exactly how placements affects the school curriculum in general.

Rep. Bob Traxler addressed the group at the Wednesday luncheon.

Special hearings resolve disputes over 'wrong' bills

(This is one of a series of public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law on their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.)

By ATT. GEN. FRANK KELLEY

If you receive an electric, gas or telephone bill you think is incorrect, you don't have to pay the disputed portion until your case has been considered in a special hearing process.

If you and the utility are unable to resolve the dispute, the company will inform you of your right to a hearing before a utility hearing officer, who is employed by the utility. You then have three days in which to request a hearing. This may be done orally.

While awaiting the hearing, you are only required to pay that part of your bill which is not in question. You cannot be required to pay any current bill before the due date. If you and the utility are unable to agree as to the amount in dispute, you may be required to pay 50 percent of the amount the company says you owe, but not more than $100. If in the end your position is upheld, your money will be refunded, plus 6 percent interest.

At least two days before appearing in front of the utility hearing officer, you may examine a list of all witnesses who will testify at the hearing, and all documents, records, files, account data and similar material which might be used at the hearing. You have a right to question utility company witnesses at the hearing. The burden of proof rests with the utility company in all cases.

If you are not satisfied with the decision of the utility hearing officer, you may file an appeal with the Consumer Services Division of the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC). If you appeal within five days of the utility hearing officer's decision, your service will not be discontinued. Your appeal need not be in writing. It may be made by phoning the PSC Consumer Services Division in Lansing at (517) 373-8590, or toll free at (800) 292-9555.

When received your appeal will be assigned to a PSC employee who will write up your appeal, advise you on PSC procedures, conduct a review of your appeal and issue a decision.

...you may appeal to the full commission...

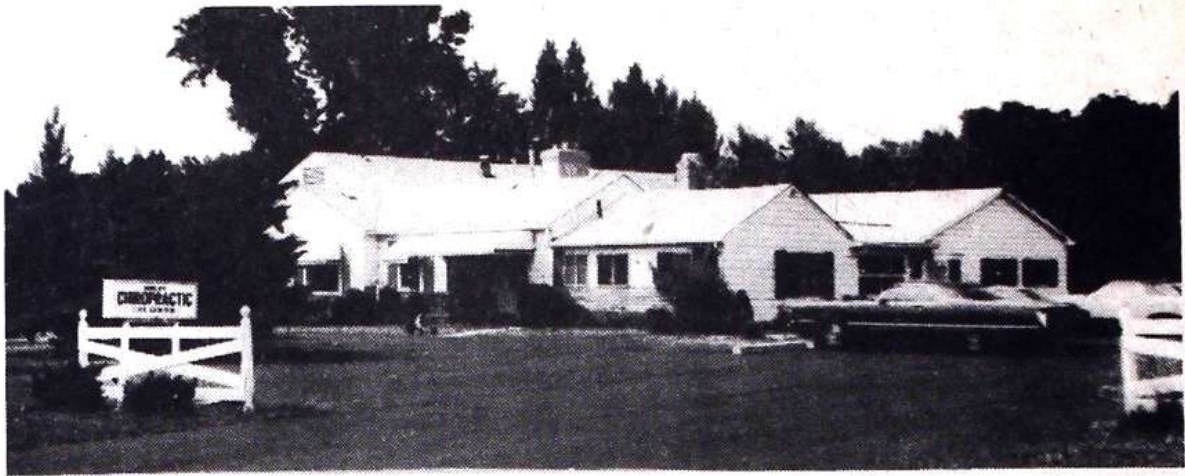

If you are dissatisfied with the PSC Consumer Services Division's decision, you may appeal to the full commission. The PSC's Rules of Practice and Procedure explain how to file an appeal with the commission.

During the entire process you may represent yourself or choose a representative to do so. If you decide to use this procedure, it is a good idea to obtain a copy of the pamphlet which summarizes the process. It is available, free of charge, from your utility. There are no fees or costs at any stage of this process.

NERVES

The central nervous system consists of the brain, the spinal cord and 31 pair of spinal nerves extending to all parts of the body.

The brain generates life-giving energy and sends it down the spinal cord, out the spinal nerves to all cells of the body. Nerves either convey sensory function such as cold, pain, smell and taste, or impulses that give motion to the body.

Any interruption to the transmission of brain energy will slacken the flow and some organ or tissue will be checked in its normal function.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT L. TWORK

Acapulco honeymoon follows Twork-Duane nuptial rite

A week-long honeymoon in Acapulco followed the Sept. 22 wedding of Debra Renee Duane of Belleville and Robert Luther Twork of Flat Rock.

On their return the young couple took up residence on Liberty Street in Belleville.

The daughter of Mrs. George Heifner of 41527 Edison Lake Rd., Belleville, and Harold Duane of 187 Belle Villa Blvd., Belleville, Debbie was given in marriage by her father.

Double ring vows were exchanged at six thirty in the evening at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville with The Rev. Joy Arthur presiding. For the occasion the altar was appointed with lighted candles and an arrangement of white and pink mums, pink carnations, baby's breath and Boston fern surrounding a white unity candle.

Organ selections for the wedding were played by Gwen Ashe who accompanies Mrs. Mark Rairick of Belleville in her solo numbers.

Mrs. Charlotte Turtle of Lincoln Park, made the qiana gown which her granddaughter wore for her wedding day. Designed by the bride, it featured an oval neckline with small Queen Anne collar, full sleeves and lacebanded A-line skirt which cascaded into a chapel sweep and later drew up into a bustle. Her floor-length veil of silk illusion was edged with rosepoint lace, frosted with lace medallions and secured by a little crescent-shaped lace cap studded with beading.

Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Preceding the bride to the sanctuary were Diane Siewert of St. Joseph, the maid of honor; Mrs. David (Judy) Duane of Belleville, the bride's sister-in-law; and Denise Rejman and Doreen Grishaber, also of Belleville.

Identically dressed, the quartet appeared in wine-colored polyester A-line gowns fashioned with blouson bodices tied at the shoulder to form slit cape sleeves.

Each wore a matching flower and baby's breath in her hair and carried a presentation bouquet formed of a single pink rose, fresh baby's breath and fern tied with wine-colored satin streamers; the honor attendant's being comprised of three roses.

The bridegroom's 9-year-old niece, Lisa Sisco, held a tiny wicker basket filled with wine-tipped white carnations and baby's breath for her role as flowergirl. The little frock she wore was a wine floral print with short sleeves, flounced hemline and sashed waist.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Twork of 28617 Cahill, Flat Rock, the bridegroom chose his brother, Tom Twork, to be best man. Groomsmen were David Duane and Terry Duane, brothers of the bride, and Ralph Sisco, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

At the dinner-dance reception, which followed at Roma's of Garden City, some 250 guests were received by hosts and hostesses for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Guenther, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith, neighbors of the bride's family.

Mrs. Heifner chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of coral qiana which her mother had made. Mrs. Twork donned a 2 piece turquoise gown and both were presented with harmonizing corsages.

Also honored with flowers were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Turtle and Mrs. Margaret Duane of Harrisville.

The new Mrs. Twork, a graduate of Belleville High School, attended Western Michigan University and is now employed by Van Buren Township. Her husband is an employee of the Edward C. Levy Co.

The rehearsal dinner was held at Little Caesar's of Belleville.

COLE - FRANTZ

A wedding in February is on the 1979 calendar for Dawn Marie Cole of Romulus and David A. Frantz of Flat Rock. The bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Birdess G. Cole of 9297 Essex, Romulus, announce the young couple's engagement and nuptial date.

Miss Cole, who is employed at the Hilton Airport Inn, graduated cum laude from Faithway Baptist School in Ypsilanti in 1978, and is affiliated with Feminine Disciples of New Boston Baptist Church.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Frantz of 24354 Sylvan, Flat Rock, her fiancé is a 1973 alumnus of Flat Rock High School who is active in the choir and serves as an usher at New Boston Baptist Church. He is an employee of M & L Automotive in Belleville.

BRANDELL - GRAY

The engagement and summer wedding plans of their daughter, Cherise Elaine Brandell, and Mark Robert Gray are announced by Mr. and Mrs. C. William Brandell of 299 Buck Dr., Battle Creek.

The bride-elect, who resides at 806 Granger, Ann Arbor, is currently in her junior year at the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources Environmental Communications program. She earned her high school diploma in 1976 from Lakeview High School in Battle Creek.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray of 42435 East Huron River Dr., Belleville. A 1976 alumnus of Belleville High School, he spent one year at Michigan Technological University in Houghton and is now a University of Michigan junior enrolled in the medical technology program.

An Aug. 18 wedding is planned; the ceremony to take place at the Michigan Education Association Conference Center on St. Mary's Lake outside Battle Creek.

Bryan Jeffrey will carry on Hill dynasty

Instant grandparenthood was bestowed on Art and Joy Hill of Van Allen Drive, Belleville, when their first grandchild arrived Oct. 24 at Midland Hospital. The proud new parents are their son and daughter-in-law, Greg and Jean Hill of 1269 Wallen St., Midland.

The new heir, who was titled "Bryan Jeffrey", tipped the scales at eight pounds — 14 ounces and measured 20 3/4 inches when he entered the world at 1:45 a.m.

Bryan's mother, the former Jean Atwood, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson of Sun City, Ariz. who are also "first time" grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hennells of North Shore Drive, Belleville, have added Bryan to their growing string of great-grandchildren.

White-Fishell to wed

New Hope Baptist Church in Ypsilanti is being reserved for the December 9 wedding of Sharon Ann White of Belleville and Thomas Carroll Fishell of Allendale, Mich. The bride is the daughter of Melvin and Melvane White of 15571 Martinsville Rd., Belleville, and the future bridegroom is the son of Melvin and Ann Fishell of Roscommon. Miss White, a 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, holds a bachelor of arts degree in religion and philosophy from Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn. where she graduated in 1978. At the present time she is working at Richardson's Pharmacy in Belleville. Her fiancé resides at 10975 64th Ave. in Allendale and is a graduate of Roscommon High School. Currently a student at Grand Valley State College, he is majoring in political science.

Champagne-making demonstration, smorgasbord star at Home Arts Club

October — the month for the traditional smorgasbord dinner shared by the Home Arts Club — has gone down in the club's annals as another successful event with 17 members and four guests participating.

Held Oct. 9 at North Junior High School's home economics room, the evening was hosted by Rhoda Chapo, Mary Kosin, Sharlene Tator, Avis White and Muriel

Wolfe who comprise this year's program committee. For the occasion they used bright orange cloths and wine glasses filled with grapes and candles in varied autumn tones for table appointments.

Each member answered roll call by naming the dish she had prepared and at the same time introduced guests she had invited, among them being Bev Kosin, Mary Hendrix, Wilma Tator and Pat Tator. During the business session conducted by president Betty Gott, the program chairman Mary Kosin distributed the club booklets which are using the theme, "The Emerging Woman in Today's Society."

Following adjournment, Avis White introduced Lorna Jenkerson who demonstrated how to make a champagne which tastes like cold duck. She explained that the drink, which is easily mixed, must set in a large glass mixing bottle for 17 days. Next it must be bottled in special champagne containers and again must rest for two weeks. The champagne is at its peak flavor four weeks to one year after it has been bottled.

Door prizes of assorted gourdes were later awarded to Mildred Baker and Ms. Jenkerson.

Members are asked to please bring their potluck recipes to the November meeting. Copies will then be made and distributed to all at the December party.

The Nov. 13 meeting at 7:30 p.m. will feature Holleen Fisk demonstrating the use of Artex Hobby Products. Members are welcome to bring guests and former members are cordially invited back anytime.

Suburban Living Editor

Hi! I'm back and hopeful that you at least noticed "potpourri's" 2-weeks absence??

Often, when taking the old Royal in hand to begin this weekly communication, I find myself stumped; at a loss for starters.

But, wow! Does a vacation give one a shot in the arm — the serum being FULL of subject matter. Only wish there were some way to record all the mental columns I composed during my hours on the "passenger side" of the Regal.

First off, on leaving for the South, I was sorely aware we were abandoning Michigan at its prime time of the year (—that's October, for me) and would be missing out on all the autumnal splendor.

Wrong! Oh, wrong! We were surprised and delighted to see many, many suggestions of color as we cruised toward our target — Callaway Gardens at Pine Mountain, Ga.

Then heading eastward to Sanford, N.C., we picked up even more paintbox momentum as we traversed the Peach State and South Carolina to the second junction on our itinerary.

At Williamsburg (destination number three) color was sporadic since we were more citified but — then we traveled through the Shenandoah Valley and along the fringes of George Washington National Forest and there it was — fall in all its glory! Miles and miles of painted forest reaching skyward for one to behold. It was magnificent, awesome... and breathtaking. We were like two country bumpkins gawking at skyscrapers for the first time. Only OUR skyscrapers were kaleidoscopes of scarlets, ambers, vivid golds, rusts and even pinks (mountain laurel perhaps?) set amongst contrasting pines and stubborn holdouts clinging to their summer greenery 'til the winds and rains disrobe them.

What a time of year for a motor trip! Spring is pretty, fresh and promising but fall is a visit to a sultan's palace.

The Michelins had barely cooled before we were off once more — crossing the state to Kalamazoo where we had a 12:30 rendezvous with our "kids". Michigan, we were happy to see, was no amateur with October's paint brush. There was sun-drenched brilliance EVERYWHERE; but on a horizontal rather than vertical plain.

Guess we timed our return just right since the next day the rain carried most of the foliage earthward leaving barren branches in what had been some of the prettiest spots.

But enough of the color tour. Back to our journey.

We saw (finally) what the Turneys had been describing to us for the past two years — the Carolina Trace — a new and lovely housing development near Sanford. Also had the chance to test our irons and woods prowess on the Robert Trent Jones golf course around which the complex is built.

And guess where the whole thing is located? In Lee County, no less. How 'bout that, Valter? (That's an inside joke; ask me sometime, I'll tell you.)

Williamsburg should be "required visiting" for every American (our friends from abroad were certainly enjoying it.) If ever anything will stir a citizen, it's the introductory film, "The Patriot", which visitors are invited and urged to see at the information center before starting their tour of the colonial circuit. Inspirational! And every American history class in the country should have access to the film as part of the curriculum.

While lunching at Williamsburg Inn, we overlooked the Golden Horseshow golf course, another RTJ design which we've reserved for "next time." Although we were sorely tempted, we opted for the historical bit instead.

You were right, Virginia — Monticello WAS not to be missed! What a genius our third president, Thomas Jefferson, was. His home (which took some 40 years to build) IS as beautiful and unique as we'd heard. Our 45-minute wait went very quickly once we discovered the people behind us (two couples from Kokomo, Ind.) were enroute from Williamsburg, too. It was fun comparing notes with them.

Enroute to Kalamazoo, we were entertained by WJR's Ted Strausser (he hosts Patterns in Music) as he filled us in on HIS recent holiday. Just back from two weeks on the West Coast, he kept up a running commentary on what THEY had done and seen while interspersing his remembrances with California-theme selections. He had a captive and most empathetic audience in us. And now I'VE got YOU; (the C'n E part, I'm not so sure of.)

Having eaten our way through the South (complete with Ginny-Lou's barbecued chicken) we never expected another morsel of food to interest us or ever be as good.

Wrong (one more time.) Not only did we quite inadvertently discover a super bakery-restaurant in Hancock, Md. (where we had a coffee-coconut cream pie break and bought goodies to take to our girls) but — then came Sunday brunch.

Our Susie, having learned of a champagne brunch on Sundays at Jason's Cove near Kalamazoo, made reservations for our "reunion" which marked Lu and Pete's third wedding anniversary. Well — (and mark this one down in a safe place, Frances) — we have been to brunches in many, many places and figured nothing'd ever top Lehr's Greenhouse in San Francisco or the hunt breakfast we'd just experienced in Williamsburg. BUT — we've missed the boat! And right here in Michigan on our western doorstep.

Fellow food fans, THIS is for you! There were at LEAST 50 items from which to select. No exaggeration, I promise. Wish I could list them all but here are a few of the more unusual — fresh, whole strawberries and enormous blueberries starred among their "kin" at the fruit table.

Oysters on the half shell and m-m-marinated herring were among the seafood delights at the "fish" bar; breakfast foods (eggs Benedict, blintzes, meats galore) line one side of the long buffet while unending dinner entrees made us groan in agony as we approached the other half of the "sideboard".

Deviled crab, shish kebabs, pepper steak, three kinds of chicken, etc. etc. were ours for the taking and then came the desserts and they, too, were unbelievable.

All this following a complimentary glass of champagne, juices, sticky buns, French toast (Jason's being most delicious and unusual) and again, the etc.

And lest she think we forgot her, Carol Ann was with us, too, and walking away just as miserable as the rest of us.

One of the best investments we ever made (and thanks to Belleville's Rae Thom) was an electric mattress pad. And never was it more appreciated than on our return home when it so warmly ironed out the kinks in our car-weary bodies. We thank you, RT, for your wise advice.

And, lest BG forget his wife's name while he's away, she bought him a shirt recently with the LEE label, not just once at the neckline but again at the pocket and again and again and again on each button which snaps down the front, on the wrists and on the pockets — about 12 altogether. (Nasty, huh??)

And, since I KNOW you just read the above item, Knoxville Tom, I want to thank you for that very cute card you sent BG when "my" new Pope was named. Loved it! And, to you people out basking in the Arizona sun — June and Bus — enjoyed your postal comments too.

THE BOTTOM LINE: At the age of 20 we don't care what the world thinks of us and at the age of 40 we realize it wasn't even thinking of us in the first place.

Comedy classic twin-bill joins Hilberry Repertory

A double bill of comedy classics will have a double opening at the Hilberry Theatre when the Hilberry Repertory Company's first new production of the season is presented at a special President's Preview for Sponsors on Nov. 10, and again at its official public opening on Nov. 15 at 8:30 p.m.

This double debut brings together Moliere's "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" and Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The Critic," each a short play generally accepted as outstanding in its own class.

"The Doctor in Spite of Himself," although written late in Moliere's career, is closer to the pure farce of his early work. It is a good example of the theatrical art he learned from the "Commedia dell'Arte," the improvised comedy of the popular stage, with its timeless character types, broad comic situations, and theatrical vitality.

"The Critic," or, a Tragedy Rehearsed," as its complete title suggests, is a play about the theatre, and is the best and most constantly revived of many English burlesques of the stage. Sheridan, a theatre manager as well as a playwright, exploited to the full the popular taste for spectacle, and "The Critic" uses elaborate scenic effects and lavish costumes.

Both plays are directed by Robert T. Hazzard. Scenic design for "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" is by Stephen Francis Krempasky and for "The Critic" by Russell Smith. Costume design for both plays is by Jackie Durbin and lighting by Marc C.

Riske.

This new production will alternate with the Hilberry company's revivals of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Romeo and Juliet," and will continue in the repertory through January.

Ancient mysteries of lost civilizations...
PERU'S GOLDEN TREASURES

Truly, it was a golden age... a time when gold was not a sign of material wealth. When gold meant a richness of human spirit... until Spanish Conquistadores arrived to turn gold into a symbol of greed and destroyed the ancient Inca empire for it. Enjoyable experience

Dave and Lorraine Andrews find owning their own religious bookstore quite an enjoyable experience. They attribute much of their success so far at The Bread of Life Christian Bookstore to the cooperation of their two children. Both Deanne, 7, and Leslie, 4, have been willing to adjust their own lives to meet the hectic schedules of their parents. "We're very proud of them. If not for them, there'd be no bookstore," Mrs. Andrews said. — ANP photo.

Couple's 'Bread of life' is their dream come true

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

Monday through Saturday Dave and Lorraine Andrews usher patrons up and down the hallowed aisles of religious reading.

On the Sabbath, they dutifully commence with the bookkeeping. The Bread of Life Christian Bookstore, their livelihood and their cause, is the life of their choice — or rather on the strength of their newly discovered Christian faith, the "life" may have found them.

Only about a year ago the two Canton Township residents were leading normal husband and wife roles. Dave was beginning his ninth year as a purchasing agent for Ford Motor Co.

Lorraine was busy raising two small girls, managing a household, and fulfilling one's customary parental and social obligations. Both seemed content.

But in certain waking moments when thoughts leaned towards their future they experienced a gnawing dream, perhaps a calling, that one day they would own their own bookstore. In their dream the store would be packed with religious good thoughts with books being accessible to as many people in need as they could possibly reach.

Wishes do come true. In their case a death and the closing of the Alpha Bible Bookstore, because of the previous owner's death, made their dream reality. Located on Ford Road, just east of Canton Center Road the store was a frequent stop for Lorraine.

"But never did I think that this would be the bookstore that David and I would own. Up until this it was only a dream, a hope," she said.

Until a few weeks ago it was strictly Dave and Lorraine who kept the doors open six days a week, and did their own bookkeeping in between store hours. Now they have a part-time helper.

Dave, a realist, says he didn't abandon his security at Ford's until recently.

"I knew better than to run off unprepared. I'm not saying that God says man must tally up the register. But there is that passage that says man must count the cost before building the tower," noted Dave.

The tower, so to speak, is unlike any ordinary, run-of-the-mill bookstore.

For one thing there are no placards warning customers of the unpleasant consequences of shoplifting. As Lorraine analyzes "Who would want to steal a Bible of all things?"

Even if someone were to succumb to the urge to steal, she says a Bible would be the best thing for that person anyway.

Music, always of a religious tone, floats out into the rows where people of all walks of life skim through the readings. Virtual strangers are often viewed and heard entering into discussions about the weather, the content of the reading material or anything that crosses their mind. People enjoy each other in the tiny shop.

Everything, even down to Dennis the Menace comic books, have passages from the Bible.

And don't judge a book by its cover in the Andrews' shop.

"Fed up with Fat?" "For Men Only" "Disciplines for Beautiful Women" "The Secret Life of a Housewife" and "For Singles Only" all appear to have the common elements of being sexually suggesting.

Flip open a page or two and one discovers that weight loss books, single's books, and books written to appeal to men and women alike can be published to help uplift their spirits without the inclusion of sex, violence, artificial stimulants or center-folds.

Faith in yourself and in God can achieve near miracles, according to some of the readings.

There's even a section on religious cult groups and astrology.

But in the Bread of Life Bookstore no one goes around advocating popular crazes or fads.

Dave feels that it is his and Lorraine's duty to let the readers see the flip-side of the cult coin, instead of the popular, widely accepted "pro-side."

"For instance, horoscopes can be like a game to people at first. Very subtly they can slowly start to control people's lives," David said. "They can be dangerous, and very bad for people's mental health when they start relying on horoscope to make them happy."

A bad horoscope on Monday, he exemplified, can cause a person to function abnormally for the day. "It's all sugar coated. To me it's the devil's work in disguise," he affirmed.

He maintains that he is not ashamed of his beliefs, or that every single item in the store has a religious, non-denominational connotation.

Renaissance Center hosts 'lensless photography' show

A lensless photography discovered by a British scientist in 1948 and improved with the invention of the laser in the '60s is the subject of a traveling exhibit now at the Renaissance Center in Detroit.

"Through the Looking Glass", the most comprehensive exhibition of the state-of-the-art of holography, includes more than 25 examples of the three-dimensional, floating images made with lasers.

Holography is a three-dimensional imaging technique, which utilizes laser light to record the patterns of light waves reflected from an object onto the emulsion of light sensitive film.

When the film is developed and re-exposed to laser light (or white light as the holograms in the exhibition), it re-creates all the points of light that came from the object, in space.

The resulting image, either behind or in front of the holographic plate, has all the dimensions of the original object and looks so real that you are tempted to reach out and touch it — only to find that there is nothing there by focused light.

Making a hologram

During the 60s, holographic techniques and applications mushroomed. Among the more notable developments were the first successful hologram of a human subject; initial experiments with holographic movies systems by INM, TRW, Bell Laboratories and others; the development by Stephen Benton of Polaroid of the first white light transmission hologram. Benton's work was particularly significant because this hologram could be viewed through illumination by any incandescent light source, even candles. Previously, lasers were required for illumination as well as the production of holograms.

This development helped bring holography to the attention of the general public, since holograms could be viewed easily in homes and studios which are normally not equipped with lasers. Further in this vein, Gerry Pethick invented a sandbox isolation system for making holograms, an inexpensive and easy-to-build method.

Recently, holographic artists have greatly increased the technical knowledge of their discipline. Instead of the cooperative scientist-artist ventures of the '60s, the artists now are contributing to the technology as well as creativity.

Vistas expand. Holography is recognized around the world as an art form, with recent major exhibitions in Sweden, Germany, France, Eastern Europe, Venezuela and a half-dozen U.S. cities. The Museum of Holography is founded in New York to document and further this remarkable story through its permanent exhibition of historic works, regular shows of state-of-the-art holography, traveling exhibitions, reference library and publications.

The purpose of the traveling exhibition program is to introduce creative holography and to explain the techniques of the medium by distributing information about the processes, the artists and their works.

The exhibition will be at the Renaissance Center through Nov. 29 on the second level, towers 200 and 300. Exhibit hours are 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sundays.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students, senior citizens and children under 12 years.

Group tours are available weekdays by calling 568-7870.

For music lovers

Lovers of music — especially organ music, are invited to a free organ concert to be held at 7:30 p.m. (Nov. 9) at the Hilton Inn at Metro Airport. Featured at the organ will be Dell Rich, well-known keyboard artist who takes full advantage of his wealth of musical experience to orchestrate Lowrey's instrumental voices into the sounds of big bands, combos and theatre organs. Call or visit Doug Brown Music for complimentary tickets. Doug Brown Music is located at 9219 S. Wayne Road, Romulus.

Talk about taxation without representation! For a suburbanite who works in Detroit, this would mean a 300% increase (from 0.5% to 2.0) in the income tax he would have to pay Detroit... in addition to taxes levied by his home community.

Meadow Brook stages Miller's 'That Season'

New York director John Ulmer has returned to the Meadow Brook Theatre to stage Jason Miller's prize-winning play, "That Championship Season", which will open a four-week run Nov. 9 at 8:30 p.m. on the Oakland University campus.

Some of Ulmer's previous successes at Meadow Brook include "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", "Count Dracula," "The Drunkard" and "The Show-Off". Most recently he directed the New Jersey Shakespeare Festival's current production of "Arms and the Man" and "The Show-Off" at Manhattan's Roundabout Theatre.

"That Championship Season" is the story of a boozy reunion of four middle-aged former teammates and their old basketball coach who pushed them to the glory of a state championship 20 years before. Once again, the coach succeeds in smoothing over the conflicts between comrades and welding them into a sort of team of leading citizens. They have been trapped by false goals and soured dreams and want desperately to believe him when he says, "We won't lose...lose is not in our vocabulary...I made you winners!"

Tickets for "That Championship Season" (through Dec. 3) may be purchased by calling 377-3300.

MCDONALD'S HOSTS FAMILY REUNION

An October family reunion was held at the McDonald's Restaurant, 5235 Merriman Road, Westland, bringing together Marvin and Marilyn Lonske of Westland, winners of the family reunion trip for two, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Myer of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc.

The free trip was offered as part of a Wayne-Westland Family Day celebration, sponsored by the McDonald's restaurant chain.

The Myers were brought to Westland through the courtesy of United Airlines. Greeting the The Lonskes and Myers and some 20 area guests was the McDonald's hostess Georgeia.

Family reunion

Although the reunion was marred by the death in the family, it was still smiles around when Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lonske (from left) joined with Keith Westwood, Joanna Simonds, STAR representative for McDonald's, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Myer for a family reunion earlier this month. The Lonskes were the winners of a free family reunion trip for two, and the Myers of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisc., were their guests. The reunion was held at the McDonald's Restaurant at 5235 Merriman Road, Westland, which is managed by Bob Peffley.

According to Rep. Ford

State to collect $16.5 million for schools from feds

Legislation, passed in the waning hours of the 95th Congress will give the State of Michigan an additional $16.5 million in federal aid for local school districts, according to Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District).

School districts in the state can expect $128.5 million during fiscal 1980, as compared to $112 million in 1979.

The money is targeted for economically disadvantaged children in elementary and secondary schools. The increase comes from an important change in the Federal allocation formula.

Congressman Ford, a ranking member of the House Committee on Education and Labor, led a tough fight in the committee and in conference to achieve the formula change.

"These formula improvements will go a long way toward giving Michigan its equitable share of Federal education dollars, which had been lost in the previous reauthorization four years ago," Congressman Ford said.

The 1978 changes were made in legislation which extended the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, the largest single source of Federal aid to local school districts.

"We also included provisions which provide a new emphasis on basic skills," Congressman Ford pointed out, "in an effort to counteract the high incidence of declining achievement test scores."

Current programs which are continued in the bill focus education efforts on the arts, consumerism, the metric system, biomedical sciences and ethnic heritage. In addition, the legislation updates and strengthens adult education provisions.

Congressman Ford said he was especially pleased that a number of recommendations from parents, teachers and school administrators were included in the bill, many aimed at cutting down on the amount of paperwork required by local school districts. The legislation also provides more flexibility in carrying out program requirements, and, at Congressman Ford's suggestion, better coordinates Federal aid with ongoing state education programs.

"While this session of Congress has been an extremely productive one for education, I look forward to an even more fruitful session in 1979," Congressman Ford declared. He is chairman of the Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education, which next year will undertake reauthorization of the Higher Education Act.

"We intend to further strengthen and broaden student aid programs such as college work study, basic educational opportunity grants and guaranteed student loans, which this year have provided some $125,000,000 to an estimated 200,000 Michigan students," Congressman Ford said.

Organized Crime Division coordinates investigations

(This one in a series of public service articles explaining, in general terms, a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law on their private legal affairs should consult with a private attorney.)

By ATT. GEN. FRANK KELLEY

Sophisticated crime takes sophisticated machinery to combat. Since its formation in 1967, the Organized Crime Division of the Attorney General's Office has conducted an aggressive effort to coordinate and assist federal, state and local law enforcement agencies in breaking down the organized crime networks operating in the state.

Like any other program, however, in order to be effective this effort must be backed up by the people it seeks to protect.

You may not have thought of it in this way before, but when you bet on the football card at work or get a "great deal" on an almost-new TV, fur coat, or car, the long-range effect of your actions can hurt both yourself and the people around you.

The football card, numbers rackets and the resale of stolen items are typical profit-producing activities of organized crime. These types of endeavors are its lifeblood, but are tacitly condoned too often because "they don't hurt anyone."

The final steps in this process is for organized crime to take over legitimate businesses with the money gained from its other activities. Authorities estimate that the Mafia may own as many as 10,000 legitimate business firms, which generate at least $12 billion in annual profits.

When organized crime moves into legitimate business, it uses the same types of oppressive tactics utilized in its illegal ventures. This leaves the legitimate business man helpless in the face of unfair competition and coercion. Once organized crime gains control of a business area, the evil of monopoly quickly becomes apparent.

Remember, there is no such thing as a free lunch.

Detroit Symphony to stage 14-day Schubert festival

The world's largest and most comprehensive musical tribute to Franz Peter Schubert will open tomorrow, under the direction of Antal Dorati and presented by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

A major cultural event, "Festival '78, Schubert-Vienna" will be highlighted by the American premiere of a rarely heard opera, a musical congress of international scope, orchestral and chamber music and lieder concerts.

The festival commemorates the 150th anniversary of the composer's death. It will span a 14-day period, concluding Nov. 15.

"Festival '78: Schubert-Vienna" will include fourteen concerts in 14 days, taking place at Ford Auditorium, Orchestra Hall, the Detroit Institute of the Arts Recital Hall, and the Community Arts Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State University.

Three orchestral concerts by the DSO under the baton of Music Director Dorati will be given during the festival, all at Ford Auditorium. The first strokes in the "sound picture" sought by Maestro Dorati will be made on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. when the DSO opens the festival with a program of Schubert's Symphonies Nos. 1, 8, and 9. The three works, one written early in the composer's career and two toward the end of it, illustrate the development of his symphonic talent.

On Nov. 7, at 8:30 p.m. world-famous contralto Maureen Forrester and violinist Itzhak Perlman will join the DSO in works which illustrate the variety of ways in which late 19th- and early 20th-century composers have responded to the example of Schubert's orchestral compositions. Instrumental and vocal pieces by Schubert, Wolf, Schoenberg, Berg, and Webern will be played, including the world premiere concert performance of Schwertsik's "Epilog zu Rosamunde".

On Nov. 15 at 8:30 p.m. the DSO will close the Festival with a lighthearted concert that completes the "sound picture" of Schubert and his Vienna by presenting examples both of the influence of a single musical idea and of the dance music written by Schubert and composers who came after him.

The United States premiere of Schubert's little-known opera "Alfonso and Estrella" will be performed in concert Nov. 11 at 8 p.m. at Ford Auditorium by Dorati, the DSO, and an outstanding list of featured soloists, among them Elisabeth Soderstrom (Estrella).

Set in Moorish Spain, and full of martial action and romantic complications, the opera tells the story of two lovers whose fathers are mortal enemies. This concert performance is one of the high points of the two-week festival.

In addition to the orchestral performances and the opera, the festival will include a variety of other musical offerings that reflect the scope and importance of Schubert's music. Now fewer than four concerts are devoted to chamber music; three of these are all-Schubert programs, and the fourth also includes works by some of his successors.

Tickets for all concerts of "Festival '78: Schubert-Vienna", priced from $10 to $3, are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office. Tickets may also be ordered by calling 962-5524.

MARIAN MCPARTLAND

Keyboard virtuoso Marian McPartland to appear at MH

Keyboard virtuoso Marian McPartland will make a special one-night appearance Nov. 12 at the Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts in Detroit.

A native of Great Britain, Ms. McPartland has been the mainstay of the American jazz scene for three decades.

Ms. McPartland's first trio, formed in 1951, appeared in the most sophisticated clubs in the United States. In 1952, the famed Hickory House on 52nd Street engaged her trio for two weeks, but kept them until the 1960s. Benny Goodman, impressed with her performances at the Hickory House, asked her to tour with him in 1963.

Her fame reached far and wide as she went on to perform in Europe, South America and Japan with her own concert series. In addition, Ms. McPartland's performances have taken her to the Newport Jazz Festival and festivals in Detroit, Monterey and Nice, France.

Known as "The First Lady of Jazz," Ms. McPartland's distinctive style is emotional and romantic. But the key to her success is her improvisational genius; her ceaseless flow of new ideas.

Ms. McPartland will share part of her program with Detroit jazz pianist, Bess Bonnier. Miss Bonnier has played professionally in Detroit lounges and restaurants for the last 20 years. She has been artist-in-residence for the Detroit Public Schools for three years and presently is appearing at Lido on the Lake and the Magic Pan at the Renaissance Center.

Featuring Brian Torff on bass and Rusty Jones on drums, the Marian McPartland trio will perform music by Duke Ellington, Dave Brubeck, Rodgers and Hart and Stevie Wonder, as well as Marian's own compositions. Showtime is 6:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the Music Hall box office, 350 Madison Avenue, or may be ordered by calling 963-7680. Box office hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. For group rates, call Joan Heidt at 963-7622.

It's Wayne's offense vs. Glenn

CHUCK GORDON

Gordon... 'They're a fine team'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

If area football fans should use records as criteria to determine the favorite for Friday night's classic between John Glenn and Wayne Memorial, the Westlanders would definitely have the edge.

But those who have watched the last seven games between the two arch-rivals, know better: records don't count when Wayne meets Glenn.

And, for the eighth time in the history of the two high schools, Wayne and Glenn will clash on the gridiron and some 7,000 fans are expected to jam into Glenn's stadium Friday night to watch the Fall Classic.

The classic, sponsored by the Wayne Jaycees, has been dominated by the Westlanders the past four years who won their first in 1974 by a 10-0 shutout and have stretched their string in 1975 (3-0), 1976 (22-7) and 1977 (27-0).

Wayne won the initial game in 1972, (13-3), then posted a narrow 6-0 victory in 1973 and held an overwhelming 35-0 edge in the 1973 game.

"Wayne looks really good to me," said Glenn Coach Chuck Gordon who is completing his second year as the head Rocket mentor. "I feel that Mark Korte (Wayne QB) is probably the best quarterback we will and have faced this season and they also have an excellent tailback in Turbeville (Ed) - his stats speak for themselves.

"I feel that the team that gets the breaks is going to win this one - forget about records, they really don't count."

Wayne's Floyd Carter agrees that "the two teams really don't go into this game looking at records. They have a natural, inbuilt rivalry because the players know one another.

"Glenn is tough - they have an excellent team," Carter added. "We have had our problems on defense, but I feel this is really going to be one heck of a ball game."

The anticipated duel between Glenn and previously undefeated Livonia Stevenson didn't materialize as Gordon's Rockets shot down the Spartans to win their seventh game in eight starts.

How come, coach? "Well, our kids were really excited about playing a state-ranked team," said Gordon, "and we had lost to North the previous week, so we felt we had something to prove."

Stevenson Coach Jack Reardon commented later, "that the way Glenn played Friday night against us, they could have beaten anyone in the state."

Glenn, now 7-1 on the season, dominated Stevenson from start to finish in routing the undefeated Spartans, 28-0, in what was touted as a tough non-conference battle.

The Rockets, playing probably their best all-around game this season, rolled to a 21-0 halftime lead over the 9th-ranked Spartans. They allowed only five first downs to Stevenson in the game and the host squad's initial first down didn't come until there was less than two minutes to go in the first half.

The thing that made Glenn so tough is that the Rockets are sound in all phases of the game. After picking up two successive first downs to open the game, the Rockets reached the Stevenson 38.

However, a one-yard gain and two incomplete passes forced Jim Demaray to punt. He responded with a beautiful 33-yard punt that sailed out of bounds on the Spartan 7-yard-line, ultimately leading to Glenn's first score.

When Stevenson was held to five yards in three carries, a poor Spartan punt only reached the 29-yard-line before going out of bounds. Gordon had his two speedsters, senior Tim Ruark and junior Scott Thornton, in the backfield and alternated them on the scoring march.

Thornton sprinted six yards on first down and then was stopped for no gain at the 21. Rocket Quarterback Rob Suida faked to Thornton and pitched to Ruark who circled right end for a first down at the 12.

With Glenn's offensive line opening gaping holes, Thornton continued to gain yardage, getting six yards and four yards on two carries for another first down on the two-yard-line. Ruark burst over left guard for the score and Kal DeLuca booted his first of four successive extra points, with 2:39 left in the first quarter. Ed Hamel, the holder, scooped up a bad snap

About that Churchill 'turncoat'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

When Livonia Churchill Coach Ken Kaestner gets his Chargers together this week, he better check their credentials - there just might be a 'spy' among his strategists.

Churchill is playing an all-important game with cross-town rivals, Stevenson Friday night and the outcome of that game probably will decide which team will qualify for the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Class A Region III football playoffs.

If Churchill wins, Kaestner and his gang are 'shoo-ins' for the playoffs, while Stevenson, which dropped its first game in eight starts last week to Westland John Glenn, still has an excellent chance of making it into the coveted playoffs.

But something unexpected happened to Kaestner and his assistants en route to the season's finale. One of their devoted coaches has defected to the opposing ranks.

Rog Frayer, an assistant to Kaestner for the past nine years, has accepted the athletic director's job at Stevenson and that makes him "a coach with two teams". The gregarious Frayer said he didn't realize that the AD's job "had to be filled immediately", so there he is working at the cross-town high school on Six Mile Rd., while his "his heart" is back on Newburgh.

What about it coach, do you trust Frayer?

"Rog, of course," said his ole buddy, Kaestner. "Rog is a true Charger, a Churchill football fan all the way," says Kaestner. And what do you have to say about all of this, Rog?

"Oh, yes... that's true. I have to agree with that..."

The 31-year-old Frayer has been at Churchill "since the doors opened up in 1969" and "you just can't slam the past behind you with one move like you do a door."

"You make a lot of friends in 10 years and I enjoyed every minute of it - Friday night, if Churchill should lose - will be my last night with the team. However, if they should win, I would go on with the team into the playoffs."

Frayer revealed that Stevenson "has only a slim chance to make the playoffs - not because of the loss to Westland John Glenn, but because our previous opponents only won two games last week, therefore, we didn't pick up many bonus points."

The 31-year-old coach has had his share of success not only in football but his baseball teams have been among the best in the state. Frayer's 1974 baseball team captured the Class A state title and his 1974 team advanced to the regional finals before it was eliminated.

A former baseball and basketball star at Livonia Franklin, Rog played for Coach Dennis Stolz' grid teams at Alma and Chuck Skinner's ball clubs.

"It's ironic," relates Frayer, "but I am coaching Bob Bentley's son, Brad, who is a linebacker at Churchill and I played for Bentley at Franklin. And Mrs. Bentley is presently the principal at Stevenson High School."

Boy, they should have a special section for fans who have mixed loyalties.

Frayer said that he is in the process of interviewing coaches to fill the baseball job at Stevenson. The position was vacated when Jerry Good resigned after handling the position for one season. Good replaced the veteran George Van Wagoner who stepped down after a decade as head coach.

Will Frayer wear two hats again and take the baseball job?

"I really can't say. You know the AD's job here is only a part-time position - I have to teach classes as well. However, there is a

Cougars meet Lions in finale

The Belleville Cougars will end the 1978 football campaign Sunday at home, hosting the Plymouth Steelers.

With their junior and freshmen units coming on strong, the Cougars came away with two of the three matches against the Plymouth Steelers a week ago.

John Andrews scored two touchdowns while Danny Ziegler and Jeff Cameron each got one in the freshmen's 26-0 victory. Cameron scored the first time he ever carried the ball. Dennis Montie chipped in with two extra points.

The Cougar junior varsity posted a lopsided 54-6 victory over the Steelers as Sean Armstrong galloped for three touchdowns, Mike Cameron and Andy Winnie each had a pair of TDs while Jerry Umin scored one.

Glenn's Paul Stephens for the seventh - and the final spot - that makes up the all-conference contingent.

Reich had a three-hundredths of a second edge (16:43) over his rival from Westland.

Glenn Coach Jerry Szuakitis was disappointed with the season and said "that injuries and illness caught up to us."

"This was a disappointing season for us," he continued, "but you're bound to run in those in this business."

Glenn's other finishers included Tom Andrews (16), Chuck Honaker (17), and Tom Unold (27).

Chuck Jennett, who finished ninth, and Jeff Bristow, a sophomore, who was 10, and Jeff Mascharka, 14th, rounded out Franklin's finishers.

Kanclerz, a junior, and Stephens, a senior who had mononucleosis during the early part of the campaign, will have an opportunity to compete in the state finals in the individual phase of the championships.

Kanclerz was 10th and Stephens was 14th at the regionals held in New Boston Huron's Willow Metro Park. Kanclerz ran a 16:02 for three miles and Stephens turned in a 16:02.

Franklin dethrones Glenn as Northwest CC king

Undefeated Livonia Franklin parlayed a perfect dual meet league season and its depth into the Northwest Suburban Conference cross country championship.

Compiling 35 points, Coach Bob Holmes' Patriots unseated defending champ, Westland John Glenn, who ran a disappointing third. Sandwiched between the reigning and the defending champs was North Farmington.

North amassed 64 points, but had the individual winner in Paul Welch, while Glenn picked up third with 71 points, followed by Redford Thurston (91), Garden City East (93) and Redford Union.

Redford Union, the newest member of the league, was a "no show". Reportedly, R.U. got its dates mixed up.

Welch had little trouble winning the gold medal as he covered the three miles in a quick 15:47. Trailing him across the finish line was Garden City East's sensational sophomore, Mike Stapleton, who was clocked in 16:17.

Glenn's top performer, Jim Kanclerz, hit the wire third with a 16:28 effort.

Franklin had the next three of four finishers as Paul Coburn, also a soph, was clocked in 16:29; Dave Dawson was fifth (16:29), and North's Greg Rapp was sixth (16:41).

Franklin's Jeff Reich managed to eke out Enemy behind the lines

Belleville's Barry Reddick (dark jersey, center) appears to have a clear field ahead but a Redford Union defender manages to break up the Tiger ballcarrier's plans by tripping him up from behind. Belleville's plans for a homecoming victory also were shattered by a strong R.U. club which won a convincing 42-8 decision over the home team.

Tolson captures regional title

Wayne harriers qualify for state finals

A record-setting performance by junior Doug Tolson wasn't enough to help defending Class A regional cross country champ Wayne Memorial retain its title, but it keyed Coach Ernie Righetti's

Zebras to a third place at the championships staged last weekend at New Boston Huron's Willow Park. Tolson, undefeated this season, continued his sterling performance as he earned his first regional gold medal with a spectacular run of 15 minutes even for the three-mile race.

Unchallenged after the initial jockeying for positions, the 16-year-old Wayne harrier coasted to victory and staked his teammates to a overall third place finish which qualified Wayne for the state finals.

Wayne garnered 97 points, one more than arch-league rival, Fordson.

Dearborn Edsel Ford won the team championship with a total of 66 points, while Fordson was runner-up with 96.

Righetti said that he was pleased with his team's over-all performance.

"It was by far our best team performance this year and in head-to-head competition with Fordson the team that could dethrone Wayne as the Great Lakes 8 Conference kingpin, we had the edge," said Righetti. "We received better performances out of our fourth, fifth and sixth runners, and if Paul (Spencer) was 100 percent for this meet, I feel we would have finished even higher."

Spencer, a senior, had been ailing all week with the flu. Despite the illness, the Wayne senior contributed a sixth place.

Wayne also finished 23rd and 33rd in the regionals with Mark Michalowski and Andy Stopchinski, while Joe Tonna was 34th, and Don Wellman was 38.

Westland John Glenn, which finished in the middle of the pack of the 22 schools represented at the Huron regional, had two regional survivors - Jim Kanclerz and Paul Stephens who will join the Wayne harriers on Friday for the trip to Howell, the site of the state Class A championships.

would be a minor miracle if that happens.

Pawloski wasn't totally — which coach ever is satisfied? — with his team's over-all performance against Crestwood, a team that vowed to beat the second place Spartans.

"It was a close game," Pawloski commented. "We did enough to win, however, we made some serious mistakes and they cashed in on them."

A couple of those mistakes were turnovers by the Spartans which resulted in the Dearborn Heights' gridders taking over the ball deep in Spartan territory.

However, it was Cherry Hill that drew first blood.

Rick Searcy got the Spartans on the board with a six-yard pass to Aaron Gregory that capped a 60-yard drive that initiated on the Spartan 40.

After an exchange of punts, the Spartans got the ball back deep in their territory and helped their league rivals go ahead by fumbling on their own 20-yard line.

Crestwood worked its way to the one where Al Robinson scored for the Chargers.

The Chargers made good on the extra point and went ahead 7-6.

Searcy gave his team excellent field position after the ensuing kickoff. He returned the ball to his own 39, then on the first play from scrimmage jolted the Chargers with a superb 61 yard touchdown run.

Cherry Hill made it a 20-7 ball game with a touchdown in the last 1½ minutes before the half. With no timeouts left, the Spartans drove from midfield after Darnell Green's interception and scored on a 20-yard screen pass from Searcy to Jon Sweet.

Pawloski had this to say about that drive and the touchdown:

"It was one of best two minute drills I have ever seen in football. We didn't have a timeout left and that drive was perfectly executed all the way."

Crestwood didn't roll over and die.

The Chargers came back after the half and got on the board again with the help of a Spartan turnover. Crestwood recovered a Spartan fumble on the Cherry Hill 25 yard line and scored on a 22 yard pass from Brian Knott to Chris Ross.

That closed the gap to 20-13, but the Spartans responded with a sustained drive of 65 yards that was capped with an up-the-middle five-yard TD spurt by Randy Frederick. Searcy's pitchout to Darnell Green worked and the Spartans had the lead 28-13.

In the fourth period, Crestwood countered with its final TD, pulled off after their best drive of the evening - a 55-yarder that ended with Robinson's one-yard sneak.

The Chargers got the ball back again in the closing minutes but Cherry Hill stopped any retaliation by intercepting. They got to the Charger 10 when the final whistle blew.

Searcy clicked on eight of his 20 passes (two interceptions) for 129 yards and he also rushed for 120 of his team's 237 yards. He presently had nine TDs to his credit and passed for 11 - a record. His 1,200 total yards is also a school record.

Tigers host Ypsi in finale

Redford Union gridders ruin Belleville homecoming, 42-8

With a victory in 18 starts behind them and all the traditions associated with homecoming working before them, Belleville fell apart against an inspired Redford Union last Friday.

The Tigers committed seven costly turnovers which visiting R.U. capitalized upon in handing the hosts their sixth Suburban 8 Conference setback in seven starts.

"It was also the final time these two teams will meet as conference rivals - Redford Union is scheduled to join the ranks of the Northwest Suburban Conference next year.

"It was really a disappointing game for us," said Belleville's assistant coach Tom Fielder. "We didn't play any defense at all.

"After winning our first game a week ago, we felt we had everything working and going for us," Fielder continued. "With homecoming and assemblies, we felt we would play a decent game."

Redford Union didn't take any chances and established their superiority immediately after the opening kickoff.

R.U. struck for seven points in the first 12 minutes, then erupted for two touchdowns in each of the middle quarters before wrapping up their third win in the conference.

Belleville yanked its starting quarterback Tim Ellsworth in the second half to give junior Jim Krause a chance in a move obviously to prepare for the future. Krause, however, threw an interception on his first passing play that R.U. turned into a six-pointer. Then the junior quarterback settled down. He got the Tigers to put together their best march of the evening late in the fourth quarter when Belleville drove 93 yards for a touchdown.

On the last play of that series, Krause teamed with Marcus Clark on a three-yard scoring TD pass that enabled the home team to avert the shutout. A Krause-to-split end Paul Arnett pass accounted for the two-point conversion.

Krause and Arnett set up the lone

TD with a "bomb" that covered 40 yards, one of 11 plays in that 93-yard drive.

R.U. dominated the statistics as the winners rushed for 334 yards and 20 first downs as compared to Belleville's nine first downs and 115 yards.

Runningback Barry Reddick paced the Tigers with 77 yards in 14 carries.

"We knew that R.U. was big and strong," Fielder said, "and they played the role. We helped out, though, by losing three of five fumbles and throwing three interceptions."

Belleville will end the 1978 campaign Friday night against traditional rival, Ypsilanti, which is sporting a 6-2 record.

"Because these kids know one another, this is one game where we won't have to get our players up for the game," Fielder said. "We always play better than our capabilities against Ypsilanti - and I hope they will react the same way this year as they have in the past."

History repeats in Over 30 loop

There may be some who argue against the theory about history repeating, but avid Wayne-Westland over 30 hockey fans know better.

History did repeat in the form of an upset last week in the league: previously undefeated Extra Point ran up against its old nemesis, Jack's Sporting Goods and the league-leader fell, 6-5.

It was Jack's who handed the defending champ its first loss a year ago. In fact, during the past three years Extra Point has lost a mere total of nine games and the Sportsmen have been responsible for five of those setbacks.

This time though Jack's waited until the final period to pull it out. They erupted for three goals to record their second win in four starts. Meanwhile, Extra Point vacated the top of the standings to Futurama Engineering which looks down at the league with a 3-0-1 record.

Jerry Howley, Nick Palise, Jim Drewery and Jerry Grube each had goals before Layne Cardinal personally took charge and fired in two goals within a span of a minute to seal the victory.

League-leading scorer Terry Carley chalked up a pair of goals for the losers while teammates Mike Villemure also carded two tallies. Ken Beal accounted for the other goal.

Johnson Carbonic got its second win of the season by defeating winless Huron Valley Total 7-4. Ron Johnson, who captured the league scoring title four years ago, broke his early slump with four goals for the winners.

Mike Forynski, Dennis McCormick and Guy Moise each had goals for the winners.

Ray Gabbert picked up two goals while Jack Bockstanz and Don Morris each had one for Huron.

Futurama maneuvered into first place thanks to a tough 3-1 victory over Tastee Freez. With goalies Tim Vandenberg and John Ruggiers playing outstanding games, neither team got on the scoreboard until the third period.

Tom Bryan fired up the engineers with his first goal, then Keith Middaugh and Bill Keskey joined the attack with goals to lift the winners to their third victory in four starts.

Vandenberg lost his shutout to a goal by Corky Hays who found the mark with 43 seconds to spare.

This week schedule at the Wayne Rink pits Extra Point against the league-leading Futurama on Sunday at 9 p.m., while Brock's Homes plays Huron Valley in the nightcap at 10:30 p.m.

Over at Westland Rink, Tastee Freez clashes with Jack's at 6:30 p.m. and Four Seasons plays Johnson's at 8 p.m.

RUSTY MANDLE

Schuele's experiments pay off

Chiefs switch Mandle to QB, surprise GC East, 30-14

By ERIC L. GEARNS
(Special to the Eagle)

"WANTED - a .500 season at the expense of Edsel Ford's T-Birds. Willing to change entire offensive structure of the Canton Chiefs' football team to get it. Will move top runningback Rusty Mandle to quarterback and quarterback Scott Dawson to wide receiver. This miracle will be performed Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Canton Field and all skeptics are invited to attend."

Coach Dave Schuele served notice last week that, despite a devastating defeat at the hands of a lowly Walled Lake Western, he intends to still salvage a .500 season. Schuele came up with some surprises last Friday night and the Chiefs went on a warpath and skinned Garden City

East's Panthers, 30-14.

The game set several marks for Canton.

It was Canton's fourth victory of the season - an all-time high; and Mandle gained 160 yards rushing in 33 carries to become the Chiefs' all-time leading rusher and the first ever to gain 1000 or more yards in a single season at Canton.

The victory was the first ever away from home for the Chiefs; their first triumph over the Panthers as well.

Canton took only five minutes to get on the scoreboard as the Chiefs moved 58 yards in eight plays with Mandle at the QB slot. Mandle went in from eight yards out for the touchdown, then Dawson hit Mandle with a pass for the two-point conversion to give the Chiefs an early 8-0 lead.

After East failed to get anywhere in their series, Canton came right back and marched 60 yards in 12 plays and scored on Steve Gray's 10-yard jaunt. The clock showed nine minutes left until intermission.

However, East countered with 40 seconds remaining as the Panthers blocked a Steve Eddy punt and moved 15 yards in four plays to get on the board and made it a 14-8 ball game at halftime.

East then looked as if it was going to make a game out of it as they came back in the third quarter and took the opening kickoff 62 yards in eight plays and scored, knotting the ball game at 14-14.

Mandle then began his "magic show". With 11 minutes to go in the game, he hit Jay McKinley for a 20 yarder and that broke the deadlock. The Chiefs elected to go for the two-point conversion and Mandle teamed with Dawson on a successful pass, giving the visitors a 22-14 edge.

And, with less than a minute to play, Mandle culminated a 73-yard drive with a one-yard QB sneak and added the two-point conversion on a pass to John Tarr. That iced the victory, the fourth in eight starts for the Chiefs.

Canton rolled up 338 yards total offense and 15 first downs as compared to 167 yards and eight first downs for East. In addition to his 160 yards rushing, Mandle was on target with eight of 16 passes for an additional 95 yards.

The Chiefs will be heavy underdogs to Edsel Ford, a perennial Suburban 8 power which will be out to redeem itself after losing to cross-town rival, Dearborn.

We're just going to have to play another strong offensive game if we hope to beat Edsel," said Schuele. He then added, "that there really isn't anything this team can't accomplish if it puts its mind to it."

Spartans

Runningback Tom Minor, who is averaging seven yards per try, contributed 54 yards in nine carries, while Sweet, a tight end, caught four passes to bring his total to 19 receptions on the season.

Pawloski has been using superlatives to describe Minor's ability this year.

"Tom has been playing a different position for us each week, filling in where we need him the most and coming through each time," the Spartan coach said. "He's done a tremendous job for us."

Pit stop

Things just weren't going right for Belleville's defense Friday night, so assistant Coach Tom Fielder (at right) talks over the situation with Kevin Fry. Fry and his teammates couldn't stop an explosive Redford Union which destroyed the Tigers' homecoming festivities, 42-8. The game ended the Suburban 8 Conference season and Belleville will host neighboring Ypsilanti in the final game of the 1978 campaign.

Churchill 1-away from perfect year

Stevenson is final obstacle

Coach Ken Kaestner and Livonia Churchill are one victory away from a perfect football season after beating Franklin, 20-0, last week.

And, if the Chargers can put down cross-town rival, Livonia Stevenson, Friday night, they will have assured themselves a ticket to the Region 3 post-season playoffs. Stevenson, which had a chance for the playoffs until last week, was ambushed by an awesome John Glenn which shut off the Spartans 28-0 last Friday.

Stevenson will be ready for us," Kaestner warned. "They have an excellent football team and they'll be out to stop us. Our kids don't have to be told what's at stake - they know it and we'll be ready, too."

Churchill will host the 7:30 p.m., Friday night game and if the Chargers win, it will be their second undefeated team in a decade. Kaestner's 1973 model was also unbeaten.

Kaestner lauded his defense which he labeled superb the last two weeks and outstanding the course of the season.

"I was surprised that Franklin didn't score on us," said Kaestner, "however, I have to credit that to our defense which has played exceptionally well the past two weeks and has been truly outstanding this season."

Franklin established a beachhead only once and had to settle for a field goal attempt from the 30. Don Boka's kick was blocked and the Patriots never maneuvered back into scoring position again.

Churchill though erupted for 13 points in the third quarter and scored again early in the fourth to pick up the victory. It was only their second win in a decade over Coach Armand Vigna's Patriots.

Doran Mason capped a 39-yard drive with a five-yard touchdown sprint to give the Chargers their first score. The Chargers got the ball on what erroneously appeared as an onside kick, but Churchill kicker Faris Samaan managed to get only the side of his foot on the ball and it wound up in teammate Russ Barnes' hands at the Franklin 39.

It took quarterback Rick Coppola only four plays, including a pass to Mark Leidholdt, to get to the five where Mason took over.

Coppola also kicked the extra point.

Churchill's Dave Krick set up the second TD with his second interception (he also recovered a fumble) of the day. The Chargers took over at the Franklin 45 late in the third quarter and, after Coppola and Leidholdt combined on a 29-yard pass, and the Churchill QB pulled off a couple of successful option plays, the Chargers found themselves at the Franklin one.

Mason again got the call and dove over for his second touchdown of the game, his 12th of the season.

A 30-yard screen pass from Coppola to Leidholdt clicked for the final TD of the game. Coppola converted.

Krick and Jon Buerk, a defensive end, were the mainstays of the Churchill defense which has become one of the stingiest in the state his season.

Coppola also contributed 181 yards on a 10 of 19 passing performance which included a touchdown. His favorite receiver, Leidholdt, nabbed five passes for 112 yards.

Franklin, which was out to stop Churchill's versatile runningback Mason, held him to 59 yards in 22 carries, but it didn't stop the Churchill back from joining the elite "1,000-yards rushing club." With one game to go in the regular season, Mason now has 1,001 yards.

Coppola has contributed 1,015 net yards and has thrown for seven touchdowns and run for an additional four.

While Churchill awaits Stevenson, Franklin prepares to meet another city rival, Bentley, a team that is winless this year. But Vigna and the Patriots know that the Bulldogs would give anything to come off the field a winner.

Wayne favored to win WW title

Undefeated Wayne Memorial will be the team to watch and catch at the Fifth Annual Western Wayne Girls' Swimming and Diving Championships.

The two-day championships will get underway at 2 p.m., Friday, Nov. 3 at Westland John Glenn. The 11-event program will be kicked off with the preliminaries, then resume at 10 a.m. Saturday with the prelims to the diving.

Saturday, beginning at 2 p.m., the championships will be decided.

"Wayne definitely is the team to beat," said Jim Lawrence, Glenn's rookie coach who is the host for the 9-team affair. "However, each of the participating schools has excellent individual talent and this will tend to make the competitions very interesting."

Wayne has to defend its title from the likes of its arch rival, Glenn, which also covets the crown. But area rivals, Garden City East, Belleville, Taylor Truman, Taylor Kennedy, Lincoln Park and Willow Run, may have a few surprises of their own.

There will be a 50 cents admission charge for the preliminary events, and a $1 for the finals. (Children under 12 will be admitted for half-price.)

Glenn's bid for revenge over Northwest Suburban Conference newcomer, Redford Union, fell short last week as the Rockets were left on the short end of a 90-82 decision. (The first time around R.U. beat Glenn, 98-74.)

"We needed a first and third in the final relay," said Lawrence, "but were forced to settle for a second and third and lost the meet."

Earlier in the week, Glenn put down Thurston 94-78 as the Rockets swept nine of 11 first places. Some of the highlights of that meet included Thelma Kew's record-tying performance in the 100-yard freestyle (1:01.5), Cathy White's first place in the 50-yard freestyle (28.4), Denise Wickline's 6:35.0 for the 500-yard freestyle and Kelly Lane's excellent effort for the 100-yard breaststroke (1:23.6).

Glenn garnered only two firsts against R.U., but one of those was a superb performance by Janet Borgerding on the diving boards. Janet amassed a total of 188 points in establish a new high. Diane Bonarek was second for the Westlanders in that event (166.85 points).

Glenn also received a first place performance by Miss Lang who led teammate Denise Wickline to the finish. The winning time was 6:24.1

Another cliffhanger

Romulus stops Annapolis on one-yard line to seal 14-6 victory

Romulus' football team just doesn't know when to quit.

For the second week in a row, Coach Don Foley's Eagles pulled off the "impossible" and scored a barnburning 14-6 victory over Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

Annapolis was left one yard shy of a touchdown when time ran out.

A week ago, Romulus beat Oak Park on a last minute touchdown provided by Vince Bean who scooped up a fumble at midfield and ran it in for the decisive touchdown.

Foley had nothing but praise for his players.

"I was proud of these kids because they didn't break when they could have easily quit," Foley said. "For the second week in a row they could have easily rolled over and died, but they refused to quit - they fought back and won."

For a season finale Romulus will host a tough Riverview contingent

Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. It is only the second time this season that the Eagles will play before the home crowd. And this week's game is designated as "homecoming."

"Riverview has an excellent team," said Foley. "They surprised a lot of people by defeating Wayne."

The last second goal-line stand by the Eagles was spearheaded by linebacker John Kersey, and end Rich Hoth who came up with a couple of key plays.

Annapolis got on the scoreboard in the first quarter after the opening kickoff. The Cougars capped the first series of plays with a four-yard touchdown run by runningback Rick McGuire. The host's attempt for the extra point went wide.

Romulus tied the score in the second quarter as quarterback Duane Parker engineered a 11-play, 60-yard drive that Les Beresgasy climaxed with a thrust into the Cougar end zone from four yards out.

One of the key plays in that drive was a Parker pass to Kersey who wrestled the ball out of a Cougar defender's hands and picked up 12 yards for the first down.

Richard Lewis was given the assignment to get the go-ahead points, but the Eagle back was cut down short of the goal line.

The third quarter was turned into a defensive duel and Romulus made the first overtures to break the 6-6 deadlock. The Eagles made it to the Annapolis seven and were stopped on a fourth and one situation.

Annapolis came right back with a long drive which sputtered at the Romulus 20 where they handed the ball over on downs.

Romulus failed to make any headway in their series and gave up the ball, but that proved fatal for the hosts who tried a pass in the flats that was picked off by Michael Johnson who raced 35 yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Johnson managed to break away thanks to a key block by John Bozelak.

The Eagles selected to go for the two-point conversion and Parker couldn't find his intended receiver, Vince Bean.

Hoth kicked the ball deep into Cougar territory after the touchdown and McGuire managed to bring his team back. A pass interference penalty enabled the Cougars to keep their hopes alive, but the solid Romulus defense stopped the Cougars at the one.

Lewis, who picked up 76 yards in 20 carries and Beresgasy who rushed for 58 yards in 15 carries, were the Romulus offensive workhorses. Parker completed five of eight passes for 34 while the Eagles had a slim 11-10 edge in first downs but lost the battle for yardage, 217 to 159.

In a relatively penalty-free game, Annapolis was caught with three infractions that cost them 25 yards and the Eagles were slapped with that one interference call that could have cost them their third victory in eight starts.

study going on in the school district to make the athletic director's position a full-time one.

"Obviously, if that goes through - then I would have to devote all of my time to administrative duties, but if it should be rejected, there would be other alternatives open."

Anyway, this will probably be the last time we'll be seeing Rog on these pages - his move to Six Mile Rd. put him out of our reach and circulation district.

So, Good Luck.

But I still say Kaestner should check your passport and see if your visa is in order when you check in Friday night.

Punt, pass & kick trophy winners

This motley crew of youngsters who are on and around a Jack Demmer truck show off trophies that they picked up at the annual Punt, Pass & Kick Football Contest which is sponsored nationally by the Ford Motor Company and locally by Jack Demmer Ford Dealership in Wayne. Remember the following names for they could become the high school and college grid stars of the future: Gary Zerna who won the eight and under competition while Charles Lauber was second and Eric Thorton was third; 9 and under - Anson Stroman, first; Marc Sondberg, second and Charles Makl, third; 10-year-old division - Michael Wunkel, first, Richard Curtis, second and Tim Potter, third; 11-year-old division - John Eberhart, first; James Kolodziej, second and Mike Leck, third; 12-year-olds - Jerome Austin, first, Grant Long, second and Keith Rilling, third; 13-year-old, Billy Barrett, first, Ken Smith, second and George Long, third. The competitions were held at Wayne Memorial and the winners advanced to the district playoffs.

Franklin to end worst season at Livonia Bentley

"Bentley may be winless, but they also are a thorn in our sides," said Vigna. "These two teams are 'cats and dogs' whenever they cross paths - and it would make the year for them if they could beat us."

Vigna says that Bentley "is suffering through the same kind of miserable season we are, but we don't want them to add to our misery."

"We have won only two of eight games and this is our worst season, but I'd like to end it on a winning note."

The veteran Franklin mentor pointed out that his team played an excellent first half against Churchill, "but we made a couple of mistakes and they were quick to capitalize."

One reason for Franklin's demise was its inability to penetrate Churchill's aerial defenses. Quarterback Jon McCarty connected on but two of his 17 passes for 13 yards. The bulk of the Patriot yardage came off of runningback Jerry Cifor's efforts. He rushed for 127 of his team's 133 yards on 22 attempts.

"I felt we did a pretty decent job defensively in the first half, in fact, during the game," Vigna added.

"But you can't make crucial errors against a team like Churchill and hope to win."

Among the stalwart Franklin defenders, Andre Mondoux, an end, and outside linebacker Doug White, looked extremely tough. They help stop and contain running back Mason from piling up his usually 100-plus yardage.

Wayne gals serious about '8' cage crown

Wayne Memorial's girls basketball team served notice last week that its has serious designs on the 1978 Great Lakes 8 Conference championship.

Undeclared in four league starts, including an impressive victory over previously unbeaten Monroe, Coach Steve Schwartz' Zebras are in the conference driver's seat.

"It's our defense that really is making the difference," said Coach Schwartz whose team ran up against Riverview Tuesday night. "Monroe was averaging 57 points per game and we managed to hold them to 37 on their own court - that's what is making us tough."

Wayne also got some balanced scoring against the Trojans who kept the game close. Theresa Callegari, a sophomore, led the Zebras with 14 points, while junior guard Kim, Mason added 12 and Beth Tracy sank 10.

Miss Tracy fired in 16 points to lead Wayne past Wyandotte 43-25 in an earlier conference battle. She split 32 points evenly with Miss Mason in a 55-36 triumph over Lincoln Park.

In another thriller, Wayne managed to shake off always dangerous Fordson 38-34 thanks to Peggy Stevens who came off the bench and scored seven of her nine points in the last three minutes of that game.

"We brought Thersea up from the reserves and she has been a major contributor to this team's success," said Schwartz.

while the girls 9-10 foursome of Susan Thompson, Jenny Schurr, Amy DeLaforce, and Brenda Crain covered the 100-yard backstroke in 1:08.8.

Melody Clark, Jill Laramie, Tami Vicchy and Laura Kuhr were the Tigers' winning combination for the 13-14, 200-yard backstroke relay team.

In the medley relay, the Tigers went with Jerry Ammon, Steve Fenchel, Rickie Schurr and Eric Snyder who won the 100 in a 1:35.0.

Mark Oddy, Randy Scofield, Doug Traskos, Brian McClinton were the top performers in the 13-14, 200-yard medley (2:08.8), while Laura Kuhr, Jill Laramie, Melody Clark and Tami Vicchy chalked up a victory in the 200-yard medley relay on strength of their 2:17.4 finish.

Fall Classic: Glenn vs. Wayne

from center to enable DeLuca to boot the extra point.

Glenn added two more touchdowns in the second quarter before the Spartans could get their first first down of the game. They marched 68 yards in nine plays to make it 14-0 with 9:34 left in the first half.

Linebacker Andy Pucci made a jarring tackle on second down and then broke up a third down pass in his defensive backfield to force Stevenson to punt again. Tom Smith got off a good punt to Glenn's 32.

In the nine-play drive, Ruark carried the leather five times, including the final four times in a row as he leaped the final three yards on play number one. A key play in the scoring march came when Glenn forced a 3rd-and-two on their own 41.

Slotback Kurt Hagemann, who is a tremendous all-around player, got the call and sprinted 33 yards on a counter-play for a first down on Stevenson's 26.

He got the call again on the next play and found another gaping hole in the same spot and raced to the 19. Thornton scooted off left tackle for a first down at the 16. Then Ruark took it the final 16 yards in four carries.

DeLuca added the extra point out of Hamel's hild.

After gaining just three yards in three plays, Stevenson again punted to Glenn and the white-suited Rockets launched another scoring thrust. This was their best offensive propulsion of the night as they traveled 85 yards in just eight plays to widen the gap to 21-0.

Again Hagemann, getting his best offensive opportunity of the season, ignited the drive. The slick slotback speared a Suida aerial and raced to the Spartans' 36-yard-line, good for a 43 yard gain. Then, set to the right, the slotback took the ball on the next play on a counter over left tackle and sprinted to the 25.

An illegal procedure call against Glenn moved the ball back to the 30 before Hagemann gained three off left tackle. Then Suida faked beautifully to his backs and dropped back to pass. He fired a left-handed rocket that exploded in the hands of end Brad Jennings in the left corner of the endzone for a 27-yard scoring bomb.

Dependable DeLuca again split the uprights to make it 21-0, with just 2:17 left in the first half.

The Spartan fans got one of their few chances to cheer as their team made two first downs in the closing 90 seconds of the half. Tom Smith ran 10 yards for the one first down and quarterback Jim Fox, subbing for injured Dave Hall, fired a nifty pass to end Jim Recker for a first down on the Rockets' 39. A 15-yard penalty moved it to the Glenn 24.

Recker speared another good reception at the 18, but a halfback-option pass sailed over the intended receiver's head on third down and Jim Demaray sacked quarterback Fox on the 30-yard line to end Stevenson's only threat of the game.

Glenn coaches said after the game they felt Stevenson's passing attack might still give them trouble, so they urged their minions not to let up.

But Glenn's pass defense was superb with defensive backs Dale Luke, Ed Hamel and Kurt Hagemann breaking up Stevenson's passing party. Defensive stalwarts Dan O'Brien, Jim Demaray, Andy Pucci and Brad Jennings rushed Fox hard and gave the 6-1, 161-pound junior little time to find his receivers.

On Glenn's first series of the second half, Suida hit flanker Hamel with a perfect 50 yard pass as the 5-7, 155 pound scatback got behind everybody for the scoring catch and tumbled into the endzone to make it 28-0 with DeLuca's kick.

Hamel, who may be the toughest Glenn player, pound-for-pound, out-foxed Fox from his safety position by racing in to intercept the Spartan quarterback's pass on his own 40 and return it to Stevenson's 45.

Thornton, who had his most productive night of the year, gained five to the 40. Then Ruark made the most scintillating run of the night as he burst off the right side of the line, zig-zagged for 15 yards and used his last blocker perfectly to race untouched 40 yards into the endzone.

However, a clipping penalty erased the picture play, or the score could have risen to an astounding 35-0. As it was, Glenn made two more deep thrusts into Spartan territory but Stevenson was held in check by a rugged Glenn defense which registered its fifth shutout in eight games.

Glenn dominated the statistics as well as the game against Stevenson. The Rockets had a lopsided 7-5 edge in first downs and outgained their out-of-league rivals 367 to 96 in total yardage.

Suida connected on three of eight passes for 112 yards and his counterpart, Fox, made 10 of his 8 tosses - mostly short ones - for 41 yards.

Ruark again turned in an exceptional game as he rushed for 113 yards in 20 carries and two touchdowns. Fullback Scotty Thornton had 69 yards on 17 tries.

Brad Jennings, a defensive end, linebackers Andy Pucci and Dan O'Brien harassed Spartan ballcarriers throughout the evening and were three solid reasons why Stevenson never scored on the Westlanders.

Wayne is coming off of a heart-breaking 10-9 loss to Great Lakes 8 Conference rival, Riverview, which came up with a last quarter touchdown and extra point to rob the Zebras of their fifth conference win.

The loss left Carter's troops with a 4-3 final record and in a three-way tie for third place with Riverview and Taylor Truman in the final standings.

Undeclared Monroe replaced once-defeated Fordson as the league champ.

"I talked with Riverview coach Don Leffner after the game and he said that this is the best game his kids played all season," Carter commented.

The two teams exchanged field goals in the second quarter as Wayne's Skip Walker made good on a 39-yarder for the Zebras' three points.

Wayne broke the deadlock in the third quarter and went ahead 9-3 on quarterback Mark Korte's 30-yard TD jaunt, pulled off on perfectly executed option. The Zebras elected to go for the 2-point conversion and Korte's pass was dropped in the end zone.

"We're going to be ready - you can tell them that much for us," said Carter.

Huron quarterback Randy Pichan (13) is one of the reasons why the New Boston Chiefs have stayed in every game this season. But even Pichan's heroics didn't help Friday night as Flat Rock shattered Huron's hopes of obtaining a slice of the conference championship, 13-7.

Flat Rock burns Huron

New Boston Huron's last chance to get a slice of the Huron Conference football championship went up in smoke Friday night as Flat Rock pounded out a 13-7 victory, forcing the Chiefs to settle for a 4-3 record and a tie for third place.

The victory enabled Flat Rock to share the championship with Monroe Catholic Central - both teams finished the 1978 league campaign with identical 6-1 records.

Huron coach Tom LaBeau pointed out that "we made the same mistakes that have killed us all year."

"We had possession of the ball most of the night, but couldn't make the big plays," he added.

One of the plays that broke Huron was a super 95-yard punt return by Gene Schoen who played havoc with the Chiefs' special teams. Not only did the elusive Schoen score the key touchdown, but he gave the co-champs momentum by sprinting to the Huron 33-yard line with the second half kickoff.

That set up Flat Rock's decisive touchdown.

It's been a frustrating season for LaBeau and his Chiefs who could take some of the hurt out on undefeated Woodhaven, the reigning Metro-West Champ.

Huron will wrap up the campaign Friday night at Woodhaven and a victory would provide the Chiefs with a 5-4 over-all finish.

Champs lose to Monroe

Is Wayne Memorial's domination of the Great Lakes 8 Conference girls' swimming league coming to an end?

It would appear so.

Coach Jim McPartlin's swimmers, who have won the last four versions of the league championship, dropped a crucial 103-69 decision to Monroe, their first conference dual meet setback in four years, last week.

And that loss ended an era which marked the Zebras as the team to beat in the Great Lakes.

"They (Monroe) beat us," said McPartlin. "They outswam us and we have no excuses. Monroe just has a strong team."

Wayne managed to salvage two first places thanks to Teri Discher and Lacy Lopez and they also established a record for the 400-yard freestyle relay, but it wasn't good enough to beat the Trojans.

Miss Discher covered the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:28.6 for the Zebras' first victory, then Miss Lopez came right back in the 50-yard freestyle and turned in a 27.6, one-tenth of a second faster than Rose Longmuir.

Monroe churned a 4:04.8 in winning the 400-yard freestyle relay, and McPartlin put together a foursome of the Batterson girls - Kelly and Gretchen, Lopez and Discher who were clocked in 4:06.9, setting a new high for the school in that event.

Earlier in the week, Wayne swept 10 of 11 first place en route to an easy 106-69 victory over out of the league rival, Livonia Franklin.

BROWN THE MAN

Effective leadership is a rare commodity these days.

At a time when most politicians would prefer waiting for trends to develop, Tom Brown moved to develop answers to those pressing issues of concern to his constituents.

Relying on his more than 18 years of experience in elective office, Brown has learned that the most likely place to search for answers is in the community where the problem lay. His energy and dedication to the job of representing the citizens of western Wayne County has gained him the respect of his colleagues in Lansing, and that respect has provided Brown with ability to successfully sponsor legislation beneficial to both his district, and the state as well.

Indeed, effective leadership is a rare commodity today. But the citizens of Canton Township, Plymouth Township, Wayne, and Westland, can be proud of accomplishments of their communities and the help which Tom Brown has provided toward the end of fulfilling the potential which exists in his district.

Tom Brown is a man with his heart in your community. Returning him to Lansing will insure the continued progress of our communities.

He is a proven leader with proven accomplishments.

Your support for Brown in the November 7 Election primary will be a vote in support of your community.

You can do no less. Brown can and will do much more.

BROWN THE LEADER

Representative Thomas H. Brown has consistently supported measures that would limit state spending.

In 1976, Brown supported Proposition C which would have limited state spending to a fixed percentage of the state's gross personal income. That measure was rejected by the voters who mistakenly felt that local schools would be adversely affected by such legislation.

This year Brown is supporting the Tax Limitation proposal sponsored by Richard Headlee of Taxpayers United for Tax Limitation.

This proposal would also limit state spending to a fixed percentage of the state's gross personal income, but in addition contains other provisions which, if approved by the voters in November, would bring real stability to the state's taxation structure.

On the issue of tax limitation, like many other issues faced by the citizens of Michigan, Brown did not wait until a trend had been established. Rather, he chose to support proposals and programs which he felt would benefit all of the people of Michigan.

The Promise:

"Until all citizens of this state are provided with an opportunity to hold a job, the creation of additional permanent employment will be my administration's number one priority."

The Performance:

Michigan's economy is on the move. Unemployment has dropped sharply and 475,000 more people are working today than were working four years ago. Michigan's gross state product, which reflects business activity, has increased from $61.5 billion in 1974 to $84.7 billion in 1977. Governor Milliken has worked effectively to bring new business to Michigan and to help existing industries expand in our state.

The Promise:

"We must assure that our students are being taught the basic skills of reading, writing and mathematics which they must have if they are to cope successfully in the modern world."

The Performance:

With Governor Milliken's support, the state has installed a statewide educational assessment program at the fourth and seventh grade levels to determine what students are learning and to help determine what changes need to be made in our educational system. The Governor is working to extend this program to the 10th grade level and at the same time has formed a special task force on school violence and vandalism to help assure an atmosphere conducive to learning in our schools.

The Promise:

"We will make the streets and our homes safe for everyone."

The Performance:

Governor Milliken has moved quickly and decisively to cut crime. He has firmly supported a strong State Police and ordered more State Police onto high-crime areas on the state's freeways and highways. In the past two years, across Michigan there have been 100,000 fewer violent crimes reported.

The Promise:

"Just as a family must live within its means, government, too, must not spend more than it collects in revenues."

Advisory Question

Westland voters will be asked to decide whether or not they want to utilize a relatively new method of paying for street paving.

The method is known as Chapter 20. It has been used once to pay for one paving district, in Westland.

In past years, paving has been paid for as follows. The total cost of the paving and drainage costs were figured, then divided in half. The city sold general obligation bonds to pay for half the cost, and those bonds were paid off by the city at-large, through general property tax. The other half of the cost was paid by the residents living on streets to be paved.

The Chapter 20 method would alter this 50-50 arrangement of paying. The cost of paving would still be divided in half, with half paid by the city at-large and half by special assessment. But the cost of installing drains, a procedure that goes hand in hand with paving, would be levied totally at-large, through general property tax.

Ballot Proposition

Westland voters are being asked to decide if they are willing to charge themselves a .4 mill tax increase to pay for a new building or renovation of an existing building to be the District Court.

Right now, the city is renting a building to house its 18th District Court. The city leaders have been considering the idea of building a new facility, or renovating an existing building for the court, to eliminate the rent payments and house the court in its own facility.

Normally, such a project could be financed through the city's Building Authority without a vote of the people. The authority would simply sell bonds to pay for the facility, then add a certain amount of millage to debt retirement taxes to pay off the bonds, in a 15-year period.

However, if state Proposition E, the Headlee Amendment, is approved Nov. 7, cities will no longer be able to levy a tax increase such as that without voter approval.

This local ballot proposition for the court is on the ballot in case Headlee passes.

18th District Court

catechism teacher and been involved in church leadership roles, including chairman of Vicariate Christian Service Commission from 1975 to 1977.

Smith was the first president of the Westland Fire and Police Civil Service Commission when the city was incorporated and the police department first organized.

Community activities include membership in Rotary Club, where he has been a member of the board and president, and co-chairman of the 1977 Westland Summer Festival.

He belongs to several professional associations of judges. He also periodically has been assigned by the Supreme Court to work in Records Court and Wayne County Circuit Court to help clear up the backload of cases.

RICHARD C. McKNIGHT

McKnight has never held public office before, but has been involved in many political campaigns, both in Westland and on state-wide levels.

McKnight also has taught at Wayne State University, the Detroit Police Academy and other criminal justice schools. He served as a legal advisor to the Charter Revision Commission of the City of Monroe from 1976-77.

While attending law school, McKnight was employed as editor of the Westland Eagle from 1966 to 1970, and also served as editor of the Inkster Ledger Star in 1966.

Talk about taxation without representation! For a suburbanite who works in Detroit, this would mean a 300% increase (from 0.5% to 2.0) in the income tax he would have to pay Detroit... in addition to taxes levied by his home community.

WILLIAM B. FITZGERALDDemocrat*Detroit*Age: 36*Occupation: State Senator/Attorney

Education: JD Detroit College of Law; AB, WMU
Background and Experience: 2 terms in House of Representatives, 1 term state Senator; Majority Leader of the Senate; Chairman of Committee on Transportation; Member of the National Energy Task Force; Chairman of the Committee on Economic Development.

WILLIAM G. MILLIKENRepublican*Traverse City*Age: 56*Occupation: Governor

Education: BA, Yale University
Background and Experience: Flew 50 combat missions with U.S. Army Air Corps in World War II; Former president, J.W. Milliken, Inc.; State Senator, 1961-64; Lieutenant Governor, 1965-68; Governor, 1969-present; Chairman, Midwest Governors' Conference, 1974; Chairman, Republican Governors' Association, 1972; Chairman, National Governors' Association, present.

1. WHAT DO YOU CONSIDER TO BE THE TWO MAJOR PROBLEMS FACING THE STATE? WHAT WOULD YOU PROPOSE AS SOLUTIONS?

1. The greatest challenge is economic development, expansion, and preservation of our revenue base. Without a strong economy, we will never have the revenue to meet our legitimate social bills. Another is the management of departments and programs. We must increase efficiency and accountability.

1. Providing every citizen a decent job. Controlling chemicals in modern society. I would continue and improve our strong business climate which has created 465,000 new jobs since January, 1975. Legislative approval of my toxic substance control package would mean major progress in controlling modern chemicals.

2. WHAT CHANGES, IF ANY, WOULD YOU SUPPORT TO LIMIT TAXES IN MICHIGAN? EXPLAIN.

2. I oppose the "tax-spend" syndrome, support tax limitations that limit excessive taxation, government spending, and do not interfere with government's responsibility to provide essential services. Support budget stabilization programs that limit spending, direct money into a state "savings account" for use in bad years.

2. Before supporting any limit, I would have to be assured it would not hamper our ability to meet our responsibilities in such basic areas as mental health, education and law enforcement. A limit on future tax growth which meets those conditions could well be appropriate.

3. WHAT PROPOSALS WOULD YOU SUPPORT TO DEVELOP AND IMPROVE TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS IN MICHIGAN?

3. Michigan must provide an outstanding highway system for its motorists, while realizing that bus systems, commuter rail and dial-a-ride programs, fill a legitimate need. I would support a comprehensive transportation program that both recognized the needs and balances the demands for limited funds.

3. I remain strongly committed to passage of a comprehensive transportation package. The package now before the legislature would upgrade our roads, bridges, railroads, water transportation and public transportation facilities. This proposal has received strong bipartisan support in the Legislature. It is vital to Michigan's future.

4. WHAT STEPS DO YOU ADVOCATE TO ASSURE CONSERVATION OF ESSENTIAL LANDS?

4. The development of a mechanism for the identification of essential lands across the state, coupled with a usage plan developed jointly by state and local officials on a site by site basis to determine conservation methods and local economic impact.

4. I have supported essential lands conservation legislation since 1972. Such legislation should provide for orderly growth and development, and for protection of significant land-based industries, including agriculture, recreation, forestry and mining. Local governments must play a key role in the identification of essential land areas.

5. WHAT CHANGES, IF ANY, WOULD YOU ADVOCATE IN MICHIGAN'S AID TO EDUCATION FORMULA?

5. Support a reduction in the reliance on property taxes and a greater assumption of costs by the State's general fund, providing greater equity in per pupil expenditures, and elimination of the public policy to provide a quality education only in a high tax base community.

5. Our basic school aid formula adjusts equitably to programs offered and growth or decline in enrollment. Greater attention must be given, however, to insuring quality education through such means as statewide testing and assessment programs. We must insure that our children master basic skills.

AS LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR WHAT WOULD BE YOUR THREE MAJOR CONCERNS?

The constitutional responsibility of the Lieutenant Governor to preside over the Senate is a primary and important one. Additional tasks could include serving as the Governor's troubleshooter and operating the office as a citizen's link, a place for all to bring their concerns.

Because of my experience, Governor Milliken foresees a very active role for me as Lieutenant Governor. I want to concentrate my efforts on improving the education we provide our children, helping to improve our law enforcement efforts and making government more efficient, effective and responsive.

I will continue to exercise the powers of the office of Attorney General in a manner which benefits the people of the state of Michigan through the protection of their rights in such areas as consumer protection, utility rate intervention and criminal law enforcement.

Provide the highest professional leadership in the office of Attorney General. This includes (1) remedying the clogged conditions of the courts, (2) ending the delays and ineptness in the legal representation of the state, and (3) initiating vigorous approaches at white collar and organized crime.

To bring nonpartisan prosecution of offenders together with respectability to the office.

BALLOT ISSUES

VOTE YES OR NO ON 11 QUESTIONS

PROPOSAL RELATING TO CALLING A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Shall a convention of elected delegates be called for the purpose of a general revision of the Michigan Constitution, any such revision to be submitted to the voters for ratification?

Yes ☐

No ☐

CURRENT LAW: The State Constitution, adopted in 1963 to replace one written in 1908, requires that every 16 years the voters must decide on the question of whether or not a convention should be called to revise the Constitution.

Amendments to individual articles of the Constitution can be made by ballot proposals resulting from a petition drive, or legislative action. A complete overhaul can be accomplished only through a Constitutional Convention.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL A: If Michigan residents vote to have a Convention, a special election would have to be held within six months to choose delegates, one from each Representative district and one from each Senatorial district. The Convention would begin no later than October, 1979. Constitutional Convention delegates would work on writing a new State Constitution which the voters could then approve or reject.

PRO: Proponents say that major revisions are needed, and that the increasing number of ballot proposals to amend the constitution illustrate this need.

CON: Opponents say that the constitution has served the state well. Any amendments needed are minor, and a Constitutional Convention is an expensive way to achieve any needed revisions.

B

PROPOSAL TO PROHIBIT THE GRANTING OF A PAROLE TO A PRISONER CONVICTED OF CERTAIN CRIMES INVOLVING VIOLENCE OR INJURY TO PERSON OR PROPERTY UNTIL AT LEAST AFTER THE MINIMUM SENTENCE HAS BEEN SERVED.

The proposed law would:

Yes ☐

No ☐

1. List the crimes to which this law applies, which are crimes of violence or crimes resulting in injury to persons or damage to property.

2. Prohibit the Parole Board from granting a parole to a prisoner serving a sentence for conviction of one of these crimes until after the completion of the minimum sentence imposed on the prisoner.

3. Provide that in cases involving conviction for one of these crimes that the minimum sentence cannot be diminished by granting of good time, special good time or special parole.

Should this proposed law be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: Under usual sentencing procedures in Michigan, a person convicted of a crime is given both a minimum and a maximum sentence. However, convicts may be released (at the discretion of the Parole Board) before serving their minimum sentence, under a formula that includes "time off for good behavior" in prison. The theory behind the formula is that it provides incentive for rehabilitation by those who seek to shorten their prison terms.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL B: Persons convicted of, and sentenced for, the crimes of murder, armed robbery, kidnapping, rape, or any other serious felony in which there is injury or potential injury would not be able to obtain early parole. In these cases, a parole could be granted only after the minimum sentence had been served.

PRO: Proponents, citing reports of crimes committed by paroled prisoners, argue that society would be better protected if convicted felons were required to serve at least their minimum sentences.

CON: Opponents favor strengthening of the present parole system. They say that limiting parole would not lower the crime rate. Prisons would become overcrowded at public expense.

C

PROPOSAL TO PERMIT THE DEPOSIT OF STATE FUNDS IN SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS AND CREDIT UNIONS AS WELL AS IN BANKS.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐

No ☐

Authorize the deposit of state funds in savings and loan associations and credit unions as well as in banks.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The Constitution now provides that state money must be deposited only in banks organized under the national or state banking laws, except for retirement or pension funds (as of June, 1978).

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL C: State funds include taxes, federal grants, fees from licenses and services, and other income received by the state and local units of government to support their operations. During fiscal year 1977, the cash flow of public funds in Michigan amounted to $10.3 billion.

PRO: Proponents say that accounts in savings and loan associations and federally chartered credit unions are insured, regularly examined, and would be required to pledge collateral to receive public funds. Public officials would have freedom to choose where to deposit the funds under their control.

CON: Opponents question why credit unions, which pay only local property taxes, should have access to state funds when they make no tax contribution to such funds. They note that the State Constitution requires state funds to be deposited only in institutions organized under state or national banking laws. Several challenges to this procedure by various financial groups have been turned down by the courts.

D

PROPOSAL TO PROHIBIT ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES FROM BEING SOLD TO, OR POSSESSED FOR PURPOSES OF PERSONAL CONSUMPTION BY, A PERSON UNDER THE AGE OF 21.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐

No ☐

1. Define an alcoholic beverage.

2. Prohibit sale or giving of an alcoholic beverage to a person under the age of 21.

3. Prohibit the possession for personal consumption of an alcoholic beverage by a person under the age of 21.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: In 1972, the Michigan Legislature passed a comprehensive Age of Majority Law which granted 18 year olds the full rights and responsibilities of adults, including the right to purchase and consume alcoholic beverages. Prior to that time all rights and responsibilities of adults were reserved to those over 21.

PA 94 of the Public Acts of 1978 amended the liquor law to make 19 the legal drinking age in Michigan on December 3, 1978.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL D: If the proposal is approved, persons under 21 would be prohibited from purchasing, possessing, and consuming alcohol. It would be illegal to sell or give alcoholic beverages to those under 21. The Legislature would be prohibited from enacting any law to change this regulation.

PRO: Proponents contend that persons 18 to 20 years of age lack the maturity to handle the responsibilities of being able to purchase and consume alcohol. They cite reports showing increases in alcohol-related auto accidents involving 18 to 20 year olds, and an increase in drinking problems in schools.

CON: Opponents argue that legal adults should not have their rights diminished in any area solely on the basis of age. Alcohol-related traffic offenses are no greater in the 18 to 20 age group than for older groups. School problems are less serious than claimed. Abuses by a few should not penalize the majority of young people who handle themselves properly if they drink.

E

No ☐

PROPOSAL FOR TAX LIMITATION.

The proposed amendment would:

1. Limit all state taxes and revenues, excepting federal aid, to its current proportion of total state personal income and to provide for exception for a declared emergency.
2. Prohibit local government from adding new or increasing existing taxes without voter approval.
3. Prohibit the state from adopting new or expanding present local programs without full state funding.
4. Prohibit the state from reducing existing level of aid to local governments, taken as a group.
5. Require voter approval of certain bonded indebtedness.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The state constitution requires that spending on state services be limited to the amount of revenue raised (a balanced budget). In good economic times, surplus revenue is put in a budget stabilization fund so that it may be used in times of recession.

The constitution allows, and the law requires, property tax assessments to be based on 50 percent of true cash value. There is no limitation on the amount of yearly increases in property valuation for assessment purposes. The constitution does not limit the rate of the state income tax. The rate is set by the legislature and is currently at 4.5 percent. First class school districts (Detroit) may levy an income tax without voter approval in certain circumstances.

The constitution sets the limit on the property tax rate that may be levied by local units of government without a vote of the people. The constitution also sets a limit on the rate that can be levied with a vote of the people.

Taxes may be levied to repay many kinds of general obligation and most revenue bonds without a vote of the people.

Property taxes are limited to a percentage of household income through the circuit-breaker tax credit on state income tax.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL E: State spending for services would be limited to a percentage of state personal income as defined by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Local spending increases for services would be limited to increases in the consumer price index (CPI). Expansion of existing services or creation of new services could only be done within these limits, or cuts would have to be made in other programs.

I. Limits on State Spending and Taxes:

The proposal would limit state taxes and spending to a percentage of the state's personal income, determined by the state revenues for fiscal year 1979. This percentage is expected to be between 9.15 percent and 9.48 percent. Federal aid is excluded in calculating the revenue.

The limit could not be changed permanently without a vote of the people. In the event of a state emergency, the spending and tax limits could be changed for one year only by joint action of the governor and legislature (2/3 vote of both houses).

If total state revenues exceed the limit by 1 percent or more in any year, they are to be refunded pro rata to those citizens who paid state income tax or single business tax for that year. If revenues exceed the limit by less than 1 percent, the excess may be placed in a budget stabilization fund.

II. Limits on Local Taxes:

The proposal would prohibit local units of government from levying any local taxes not already in force without a vote of the people.

If the base of an existing local tax is broadened, the rate must be reduced so that the yield of dollars is the same as under the previous base.

If the State Equalized Valuation (SEV) of a community (excluding new construction and improvements) increases more than the Consumer Price Index, the millage rate must be reduced to limit the tax increase to the increase in the CPI. Taxes authorized for repayment of principal and interest of existing bonded indebtedness are excluded from the limitation. New general obligation bonding would require voter approval.

III. State-Local Cost Sharing for Services:

The state would be prohibited from reducing the state financed portion of the "necessary costs of any existing activity or service required of local units of government by state law".

Total state spending for local units as a group could not be reduced below the proportion spent in the fiscal year 1978-79.

Any new activity or service, or increase in those now required of local units of government by state law, must be accompanied by state funding to pay for the cost of the services or increases. Funding for a service could be shifted from one level of government to another by allowing an increase in the limitation up to the amount of dollars shifted as long as the total amount raised and spent for the program remains the same.

Implementation of the proposal would be the responsibility of the Legislature.

PRO: Proponents say that state spending as a percentage of personal income has increased from 5 percent to 9 percent in the last ten years. Government at all levels is growing too rapidly, resulting in an expanding bureaucracy and burdensome taxes.

This proposal would place a limit on all forms of state taxes. Tax limits would not detract from the legislature's or local governing board's role, since each would still have to make choices about services within the limits. Government spending would grow only if personal income grows.

CON: Opponents say that limiting total state and local spending does not address the need for reform of the burdensome property tax, and will hinder development of a more equitable method of school financing. Michigan has met public demand for increased government services by spending less than the national average, while providing better than average services.

When federally mandated programs and court orders require increased expenditures in one area, other essential services could be subject to arbitrary cuts. The Legislature's task will be very difficult in times of recession when revenues are low and service needs are high. Requiring voter approval of all general obligation bonding for indebtedness will make it difficult for local units to institute capital improvement and redevelopment projects.

G

PROPOSAL TO ALLOW COLLECTIVE BARGAINING WITH BINDING ARBITRATION FOR MICHIGAN STATE POLICE TROOPERS.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☒

No ☐

1. Permit state troopers and sergeants to bargain collectively with their employers concerning conditions of employment.

2. Permit state troopers and sergeants to submit unresolved disputes to binding arbitration.

3. Provide that all promotions be determined by competitive examination and performance on the basis of merit, efficiency and fitness.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The salaries of State Police Troopers, like those of all State Civil Service employees, are set by the Michigan Civil Service Commission, a four-member body appointed by the Governor. Each year, the Commission receives recommendations from the Michigan State Police Troopers Association for adjustments in troopers' salaries, fringe and retirement benefits, and considers these recommendations in light of anticipated revenue estimates provided by the Office of Management and Budget. The Commission then decides the level of salary increase for all state employees, including State Police Troopers, for the fiscal year.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL G: State Police Troopers would be allowed to bargain collectively on salaries and benefits (but not promotions or performance). Compulsory arbitration would be required for disputes not resolved within 30 days after collective bargaining begins. Troopers would still be prohibited from striking.

PRO: Proponents note that State Police Troopers' salaries are lower than the salaries paid to law enforcement officials in many cities and counties throughout the state. They believe that, with the right of collective bargaining, troopers will be in a better position to bargain for more adequate compensation and will have a greater voice in determining working conditions and pensions.

CON: Opponents say that the language of the amendment is ambiguous. It is in conflict with other existing provisions in the Constitution. It is poor public policy to give collective bargaining rights to just one group of state employees.

Questions and Answers About Ballot Proposals

Q. CAN LAWS RESULTING FROM PETITION DRIVES BE CHANGED OR REPEALED ONCE THEY ARE APPROVED BY THE VOTERS?

A. A law enacted by initiative petition may be changed or repealed by:

- (1) another vote of the people;
- (2) or, if the original petition provides for change or repeal;
- (3) or, by a three-fourths vote in each house of the Legislature.

A law enacted by referendum petition can be amended by the Legislature during any subsequent session.

Q. CAN THE GOVERNOR VETO A LAW CREATED AS A RESULT OF AN APPROVED PETITION?

A. No. The Constitution prohibits this.

HPROPOSAL TO PROHIBIT THE USE OF PROPERTY TAXES FOR SCHOOL OPERATING EXPENSES AND TO ESTABLISH A VOUCHER SYSTEM FOR FINANCING EDUCATION OF STUDENTS AT PUBLIC AND NONPUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐
No ☐

1. Prohibit the use of property taxes for school operating expenses.
2. Require the legislature to establish a program of general state taxation for support of schools.
3. Require the legislature to provide for the issuance of an educational voucher to be applied toward financing a student's education at a public or nonpublic school of the student's parent's or guardian's choice.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The local property tax currently provides a major source of revenue to operate public elementary and secondary schools. It is collected by local units of government and is supplemented by state school aid according to law. The state constitution prohibits the allocation of state funds to nonpublic pre-elementary, elementary and secondary schools. It allows the legislature to provide for transportation of students to and from any school. In addition, the courts have allowed state monies to be used for auxiliary services and shared time.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL H: The proposed amendment would make three major changes in financing public and nonpublic elementary and secondary education in Michigan (see ballot wording above).

The prohibition affects only property taxes for school operating costs. However, property taxes which have already been voted for the payment of principal and interest on bonded indebtedness will remain in effect.

Voters could approve additional property taxes for school construction. Property taxes could still be levied for support of community colleges and public libraries which are not a part of a local school district.

The proportion of the property tax, within the 15 mill constitutional limitation which formerly went to schools, would be available to counties and townships (unless they had voted a fixed allocation to various units).

The value of each voucher has not been determined. The vouchers would not necessarily meet the complete cost of each child's education.

PRO: Proponents say that use of property taxes for operating schools is inequitable to taxpayer and child and may well prove to be unconstitutional. Vouchers will provide a more equitable distribution of educational tax dollars to all children according to their grade level and educational needs, with parents having the freedom to place their child's voucher in the state-approved school of their choice.

The proposal will remove a state-wide average of 65 percent of property tax bills; will provide for greater alternatives, competition, self-determination and accountability in education; and will guarantee local control to the family and community.

CON: Opponents say that public funds should not be used to support any private-parochial schools. Total state funding means total state control. Less affluent areas would be further handicapped in providing quality educational services. Local property taxes would drop, but state taxes (income, business, etc.) would have to rise sharply to make up the loss. This tax shift (and probably an increase) means total amount of taxes paid by average Michigan family would likely rise, because the state would be funding the education of approximately 210,000 students not now attending public schools.

Nonpublic schools could still charge tuition over and above the as yet unknown voucher value. Nonpublic schools could still limit student population, so some parents may be turned down by the school of their choice.

Questions and Answers About Ballot ProposalsQ. HOW DOES A PETITION DRIVE GET STARTED?

A. Although any one citizen can start a petition drive, it is usually initiated by one or more organizations which are interested in seeing present law or the Constitution changed.

Q. WHO MAY SIGN PETITIONS AND HOW MANY SIGNATURES ARE REQUIRED?

A. Any registered voter may sign a petition, but he or she may sign only once on a specific ballot proposal and must record the actual date of signing. The number of signatures required to place a proposal on the 1978 ballot are:

- (1) initiative petition - 8 percent of the total votes cast for all candidates for governor at the previous general election (212,562);
- (2) referendum petition - 5 percent of the total gubernatorial votes cast in the previous general election (132,851);
- (3) constitutional revision petition - 10 percent of the gubernatorial votes cast in the previous general election (265,702).

JPROPOSAL TO REDUCE PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS; TO ESTABLISH A MAXIMUM OF 5.6 PERCENT ON THE RATE OF THE STATE INCOME TAX; TO PROHIBIT LEGISLATURE FROM REQUIRING NEW OR EXPANDED LOCAL PROGRAMS WITHOUT STATE FUNDING; AND TO ALLOW SCHOOL INCOME TAX WITH VOTER APPROVAL.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐
No ☐

1. Reduce real and personal property tax assessments to 25 percent of true cash value of property.
2. Limit state equalization increase to 2.5 percent for any year.
3. Establish a maximum of 5.6 percent on the rate of the state income tax.
4. Allow legislature to authorize school districts to levy up to 1 percent income tax with local school district voter approval.
5. Prohibit legislature from requiring new or expanded local programs unless fully funded by state.

Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The Constitution now allows, and the law requires, property tax assessments to be based on 50 percent of true cash value. There is no limitation on the amount of yearly increases in property valuation for assessment purposes. The Constitution does not limit the rate of the state income tax. The rate is set by the Legislature and is currently at 4.6 percent. First class school districts (Detroit) may levy an income tax without voter approval in certain circumstances.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL J:

- After December 30, 1978, property would be assessed at 25 percent of true cash value (1978 values).

- Assessed property valuation increases would not exceed 2.5 percent a year.

- A limit of 5.6 percent would be placed on the state personal income tax rate.

- The Legislature could permit local K-12 school districts to levy up to a 1 percent school district income tax for up to 10 years with voter approval.

- The state would be required to pay local government for new or expanded mandated program costs.

The reduction in property tax assessments would result in about $1.75 billion less revenue to local school districts and local government. The present school aid bill would require the state to make up about $1 billion of that loss to school districts. In order to raise those funds, the state could raise the rates on the state income tax, the single business tax, and possibly on cigarette and liquor taxes. The state has no current surplus to assist local government and school districts to regain the lost revenue.

Cities, counties, villages and townships could raise their millage rates if they are not already at their charter, statutory or constitutional limits.

PRO: Proponents say that rolling back the assessed property valuation and limiting the state income tax rate will eliminate waste in government without reducing services. If the estimated 25-30 percent waste in government is eliminated, the state income tax would probably not be needed. If the people want more money spent on services, only the people could vote for more millage, not the legislature.

Local property taxes would be reduced by 50 percent, but total local government revenue would not be reduced by that much. Local governments would have a year to adjust, and could request additional millage from the voters, if needed. Senior citizens and farmers will benefit by paying less property tax to begin with, and will not have to wait for bureaucrats to send a rebate. Government will be forced to become more efficient, and local government will be strengthened.

CON: Opponents say that it is questionable whether there would be an overall tax savings to an individual, assuming an increase in the state income tax rate, plus a 1 percent local school income tax. In addition, there probably would be an increase in user fees and service charges, placing more tax burden on the wage earner.

Money available for educating each child would depend on local voters' willingness to approve millage requests and/or to approve a school district income tax. At present rate of inflation, local governments will be hard-pressed to meet their costs with only a 2.5 percent increase in valuation allowed yearly, thus greater reliance would be placed on the state to replace services, resulting in further loss of local control.

If the state has to completely fund all new mandated services, then less money will be available for unrestricted revenue sharing projects. Conversely, drastic cuts in local revenue will reduce amounts that local government has for matching funds for state and federal projects. Local government will immediately have to double the millage rate on bonded indebtedness to raise money to pay off bonds.

KPROPOSAL TO GRANT AUTHORITY TO COURTS TO DENY BAIL UNDER CERTAIN CIRCUMSTANCES INVOLVING VIOLENT CRIMES.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐
No ☐

1. Permit denial of bail to a person accused of:
 - a. Murder, treason, armed robbery, criminal sexual assault 1st degree, or kidnapping for extortion;
 - b. A felony involving an act or threat of violence if the person has been convicted of two crimes involving violence within the previous 15 years or is on bail, parole or probation for such a crime.
 2. Provide that trial must be commenced within 90 days after denial of bail or bail shall be set.
- Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The State Constitution provides that all persons, except those accused of murder or treason, are entitled to bail. Bail is required to assure that the defendant will not leave the state before coming to trial. Thus, anyone charged with a crime (other than murder or treason) has a constitutional right to be released from jail (as long as bail has been posted) while the case is pending and waiting to be heard in court.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL K: If the proposal is approved, bail may be denied to those who:

1. have been convicted of two or more violent felonies in the past fifteen years;
2. are arrested for a violent felony while released on bail for another offense;
3. are arrested for a violent felony while on probation or parole for a previous conviction;
4. are arrested for 1st degree criminal sexual conduct, armed robbery, or kidnapping for extortion.

Bail could not be denied if a trial has not started within 90 days of bail denial.

PRO: Proponents believe that those who are charged with committing a violent crime, or who have demonstrated a history of violent criminal activity, should not be released from jail on bail while their case is pending. They believe that such criminals may pose a potential danger to the community by committing another crime while free on bail.

CON: Opponents believe that to deny bail is to presume that the defendant is guilty, thus contradicting one of the fundamentals of our system of justice that a person is innocent until proven guilty. They also believe that there is ample discretion available to Michigan judges to make bail decisions applicable to a person's individual circumstances.

MPROPOSAL TO ALLOCATE AT LEAST 90 PERCENT OF GAS TAX REVENUES FOR GENERAL ROAD PURPOSES AND THE REMAINDER FOR OTHER TRANSPORTATION PURPOSES AND TO REPLACE STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION WITH A TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION.

The proposed amendment would:

Yes ☐
No ☐

1. Provide that at least 90 percent of gas and license tax revenue be used exclusively for general road purposes.
 2. Provide that remainder of gas and license tax revenue and not to exceed 25 percent of sales tax on cars and parts be used exclusively for other transportation purposes.
 3. Limit bonding for roads, streets, bridges and other transportation purposes to amounts to be derived from specific motor vehicle tax and sales tax revenues.
 4. Replace State Highway Commission with a nonpartisan State Transportation Commission which shall establish a state transportation policy.
- Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: The Michigan Constitution states that all specific taxes imposed on fuels sold for propelling motor vehicles on highways and imposed on registered motor vehicles shall be used exclusively for highway purposes. The Constitution also provides for a State Highway Commission of four members (no more than two from one party) appointed by the governor for four-year terms, and a State Highway Department with a director, who must be a competent highway engineer appointed by the Commission.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL M: The provisions of this proposal would require that at least 90 percent of highway user taxes (motor fuel and vehicle registration taxes) be used for highways, roads, streets, and bridges.

The remaining 10 percent could be spent on all other forms of transportation, such as local bus systems, waterway, passenger and freight rail programs, intercity buses, port and airport improvement programs.

Another provision: 100 percent of taxes on aviation registration and aviation fuel, and up to 25 percent of the sales tax on motor fuels, motor vehicles, parts and accessories would also be used for comprehensive transportation purposes.

The names, "State Highway Commission" and "State Highway Department" would be changed to "Transportation Commission" and "Transportation Department". The Commission would be enlarged to 6 members appointed by the governor (no more than 3 from one party) for 3 year terms. The director of the Transportation Department could be appointed by the governor.

The amendment does not include an increase in gasoline taxes or in automobile registration fees. Both could be enacted by the legislature.

PRO: Proponents state that comprehensive planning and funding are essential to meet diverse transportation needs such as: transportation service for those who cannot drive or cannot afford a car, conservation of energy, improvement of present services.

CON: Opponents say that automobile and gasoline taxes should be used for roads, not other forms of transportation.

RPROPOSAL TO AUTHORIZE CREATION OF A RAILROAD REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY TO MAKE LOANS TO RAILROADS WITH TRACKAGE IN MICHIGAN AND TO AUTHORIZE AUTHORITY TO ISSUE GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS IN AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED 175 MILLION DOLLARS.Yes ☐
No ☐

The proposed amendment would:

1. Require legislature to create a Railroad Redevelopment Authority.
 2. Authorize Authority to issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed 175 million dollars at any period in time and pledge full faith and credit of state for repayment thereof.
 3. Authorize Authority to make loans to railroads for redevelopment projects in interest of national defense or state industries.
- Should this amendment be adopted?

CURRENT LAW: Railroads are allowed to claim a credit against their property taxes for 25 percent of the amount that they spend yearly to maintain and improve rights of way.

Revenue bonds, which can be used for maintenance and redevelopment purposes, do not have tax-exempt status due to recent federal regulations.

General obligation bonds do have tax-exempt status. The state constitution must be amended in order for those to be issued to benefit railroads.

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSAL R: If this proposal is approved, the legislature will be required to create a railroad redevelopment authority with certain powers and duties.

The authority would be able to issue general obligation bonds, with no more than $175 million outstanding at any one time.

The authority could then make loans to railroads with tracks in Michigan. These loans would be used for redevelopment projects which would be in the interest of national defense, or to meet the rail transportation needs of industries located in Michigan.

The state would pledge its faith and credit for the bonds and notes. There would be no financial obligation for the state unless a railroad defaulted on a loan made by the authority.

PRO: Proponents feel that Michigan's industrial and economic development will decline if rail lines do not operate at capacity. In order to upgrade roadbeds and equipment, and maintain rail lines which are threatened with extinction, state aid is necessary.

CON: Opponents feel that a provision for an authority to make loans to railroads is showing undue favoritism to one industry. Railroads already have special tax considerations not given to similar industries.

Questions and Answers About Ballot ProposalsQ. WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF A BALLOT PROPOSAL?

A. A ballot proposal provides the people a direct voice, through popular vote, in creating a new law, changing an existing one, or amending the State Constitution.

Q. HOW DOES A PROPOSAL GET ON THE BALLOT?

A. The most common way is through a petition drive. A proposal may also be placed on the ballot by the Legislature or mandated by the Constitution.

Q. HOW DOES THE LEGISLATURE PUT A PROPOSAL ON THE BALLOT?

A. The Legislature passes a joint resolution by a two-thirds vote of both houses. Such a joint resolution may propose an addition or change in the State Constitution or the enactment of a law on an issue on which the Legislature is unwilling to act without voter approval.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

8 YEAR TERM

What is the State Board of Education

The education of every student in the state -- whether in grade school, high school, university or adult education -- is largely the responsibility of the State Board of Education, according to the Michigan Constitution.

While much of the day-to-day workings of the schools are delegated to locally elected boards of education, the State Board of Education -- through its staff agency, the State Department of Education -- provides guidance, regulation and assistance in a multitude of areas.

Among its duties, as provided by law and the constitution:

Administration of state financial aid to local school districts

Teacher certification

Examination and in some cases approval of local construction and financing plans

Reimbursement to schools for bus service, school lunch, other programs

Remedial and special education

School district organization

Planning and coordination for community colleges, 4-year colleges and universities

There are eight members, nominated by party conventions, and elected at large for 8-year terms. Two of these members are to be elected on the November ballot.

Candidates for the State Board of Education were asked to summarize their biographies in 45 words, and answer the question in 45 words. Responses are unedited except for length.

WHAT ARE THE MAJOR PROBLEMS FACING PUBLIC EDUCATION IN MICHIGAN?

The crucial issues are found in educational funding, the educational delivery system, and in the strengthening of professional development. The total community, as well as parents and students themselves, must be assured they will receive all the learning that is due them.

People have lost confidence in their schools. We must promote excellence in education and equality of opportunity. We should stress basic skills, student competence and discipline as well as fair financing. Parents and taxpayers need assurance that schools are a good investment for Michigan.

Departure from the basics the key problem? You bet! Students graduating without reading, writing and mathematic skills are unable to get jobs or go to college. Erosion of discipline, rising vandalism, lackluster communication between parents, students, and teachers also contribute to the educational decline.
